The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

JOINT LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL PREFATORY NOTE: This bill was prepared for the joint legislative council's special committee on state-tribal relations. It is based on 2001 Assembly Bill 772, which was introduced by the council on the committee's recommendation.

The bill requires the preparation of statements describing the impact of legislation on tribal governments and American Indians. It applies to bills that apply specifically to tribal governments or American Indians or that affect tribal governments or American Indians differently than other governments or entities or other individuals. The requirements of the bill are designed to parallel the current requirements contained in the statutes and the joint rules of the legislature for the preparation of statements describing the fiscal impact of legislation.

The bill directs the legislative reference bureau to identify bills for which tribal impact statements are required and authorizes either house of the legislature to request one. In addition, the chairperson or either cochairperson of the special committee on state-tribal relations may request a tribal impact statement. If the Wisconsin tribal–state council is created, as is proposed in separate legislation recommended by the special committee on state–tribal relations, the bill permits either cochairperson or the executive director of the council to request a tribal impact statement. It directs the department of administration to assign the task of preparing a statement to the appropriate agency or agencies. It establishes a deadline for the preparation of a statement and requirements for its distribution. The bill states that a standing committee may not hold a public hearing on, or report a bill for which a tribal impact statement is required, before receipt of the statement.
