16 navigable waters; notice, hearing, and review procedures related to permits to 17 place structures and materials and to conduct activities in or near navigable 18 waters; and granting rule-making authority.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill makes changes in the permitting, decision, notice, hearing, and court procedures that apply to permits and contracts given by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) in regulating structures, deposits, and other activities that occur in or near navigable waterways (waterway activities).

Permitting changes in general

With limited exemptions, under current law, an owner of waterfront property (riparian owner) may not engage in a waterway activity unless the riparian owner has first obtained a permit or contract from DNR that is specific to the waterway activity (an individual approval) or unless the waterway activity is authorized under a general permit issued by DNR.

This bill restructures the substantive requirements for individual permits, general permits, and contracts for removing material from navigable waterways. It also creates exemptions from both of these types of permits and from these contracts for certain waterway activities. The types of permits that are affected by these new general and individual permitting, contracting, and exemption provisions are permits to place structures or deposit material (placement permits), permits to construct or maintain bridges (bridge permits), permits to enlarge or connect waterways or to grade or remove top soil from banks along navigable rivers and streams (enlargement permits), permits to change the courses of streams and rivers (stream course permits), and permits and contracts to remove material from beds of navigable waterways (removal approvals).

General permits

Under current law, DNR may, but is not required to, issue general permits for waterway activities that are covered by the abbreviated procedure described above and for certain activities that require an enlargement permit. Under current law, general permits may be issued in certain designated areas of the state for any waterway activity that requires a general permit. The bill expands the use of general permits by requiring DNR to issue statewide general permits for certain waterway activities and to allow DNR to promulgate rules to specify additional waterway activities that may be authorized under a general permit. The bill allows DNR to impose certain construction and design requirements, location requirements, and environmental restrictions on the general permits. Under current law, a person seeking to conduct a waterway activity under a general permit must notify DNR not less than 20 days before starting the activity. The bill requires this notification to be in writing and increases the 20 days to 30 days. If DNR does not act within 30 days of the notification, the waterway activity is considered to be authorized.

Placement permits

For placement permits, current law provides an abbreviated procedure for reviewing applications. Under the procedure, DNR may approve or disapprove the permit application without giving notice or conducting a hearing. Types of permit applications to which this abbreviated procedure applies include applications to place sand to improve recreational use and applications to place devices to improve fish habitat.

This bill repeals this abbreviated review procedure. Instead, under the bill the general permitting process applies to most of the waterway activities that are subject to the abbreviated procedure.

The bill also exempts certain waterway activities from both general and individual placement permits if they do not interfere with the rights of other riparian owners and if they are located outside an area of special natural resource interest (exempt waterway activities). Under current law, some of these activities are subject to the abbreviated procedure and some must meet notice and hearing requirements before being issued. The bill defines an area of “special natural resource interest” to be a state natural area or an area identified by DNR as possessing scientific value or as being an outstanding or exceptional resource water. Examples of such waters include wild and scenic rivers and certain trout streams. If a waterway activity is not an exempt waterway activity, the individual permitting process applies unless the waterway activity is covered by a general permit.

Whether a waterway activity is subject to the individual placement permit process or the general placement permit process or is totally exempt from any type of placement permit depends on the placement or deposit meeting certain size and other criteria. Structures and deposits that are subject to these placement permit provisions include deposits of sand, crushed rock, gravel, or riprap; boat shelters and hoists; intake and outlet structures; piers; and wharves. Under current law, a riparian owner may construct a pier or wharf beyond the ordinary high-water mark or an established bulkhead line without a placement permit if the wharf or pier meets certain criteria. This bill eliminates this exemption.

Under current law, DNR may, but is not required to, issue placement permits for waterway activities that meet the requirements for the permit. Under the bill, DNR must issue placement permits for activities that meet these requirements.

Enlargement permits

Under current law, a person must be issued an enlargement permit to do any of the following:

1. Construct, dredge, or enlarge any artificial waterway in order to connect it with an existing navigable waterway (connection permit requirement). The bill limits this permit requirement to those artificial waterways that are already connected to the navigable waterway or that will connect with the navigable waterway upon completion of the construction.

2. Connect an artificial or natural waterway, whether or not navigable, with an existing navigable waterway. The bill repeals this provision.

3. Construct, dredge, or enlarge any part of an artificial waterway that is located within 500 feet of an existing navigable stream (500-foot permit requirement).

4. Grade or remove top soil from the bank of a navigable waterway if the exposed area will exceed 10,000 square feet (grading permit requirement).

The bill creates an exemption from the 500-foot permit requirement, if the artificial waterway's only surface connection to a navigable waterway is an overflow device and the construction, dredging, or enlargement is authorized by a storm water discharge permit or a water sewerage and facility plan authorized by DNR (storm water-sewerage projects).

The bill creates an exemption from the grading permit requirement if the grading or removal of top soil is not located in an area of special natural resource interest and is authorized by a storm water discharge permit, by a shoreland or wetland zoning ordinance, or by a construction site erosion control plan.

The bill requires DNR to issue a general permit to meet the connection permit requirement and the 500-foot permit requirement for construction, dredging, and enlargements that are part of an approved storm water-sewerage project, but that are not covered by the exemption described above. The bill requires DNR to issue a general permit to meet the connection permit requirement and the 500-foot requirement for construction, dredging, and enlargements that are designed to enhance wildlife habitat or wetlands or that affect a body of water less than one acre in size. The bill requires DNR to issue a general permit to meet the grading permit requirement for any grading or removing of top soil that is not covered by the exemption described above.

As to individual enlargement permits, the bill imposes the additional requirement that the activity not be detrimental to the public interest.

Bridge permits

The bill makes the following changes to current permitting procedures for the construction and maintenance of bridges:

1. Allows bridge construction and maintenance to be authorized by the legislature.
2. Subjects bridges that cross navigable streams that are less than 35 feet wide to the general permitting provisions. Under current law, such bridges are exempt from the bridge permitting requirements.
3. Changes the permitting provisions to specifically cover the placement of culverts.
4. Subjects culverts that have diameters of less than 60 inches to the general permitting provisions.
5. Exempts culverts that have a diameter of less than 48 inches and that are part of private roads or driveways from all of the bridge permitting requirements.
6. Repeals the requirement that the holder of a bridge permit construct and maintain a bridge that is used by the public to be in a safe condition.

Stream course permits

Under current law, a person must be issued a stream course permit to change or straighten the course of a stream or river. The bill requires DNR to issue a general permit under which riparian owners may change or straighten the course of streams or rivers if the change or straightening involves a relocation of less than a total of 500 feet or a relocation of a stream with an average flow of less than 2 cubic feet per second. The bill also repeals an exemption for municipal or county lands in Milwaukee County and a provision that states that compliance with a stream course permit is a presumption of the exercise of due care. The bill also allows the legislature to authorize the changing or straightening of stream or river courses.

Removal approvals

The bill makes the following changes to current provisions regarding removal approvals:

1. Allows the removal of materials to be authorized by the legislature.
2. Limits the scope of the general requirement for a removal contract to natural navigable lakes. Under current law, both natural and artificial lakes are subject to this requirement.
3. Limits the scope of the general requirement for a removal permit to navigable streams. Under current law, both navigable and nonnavigable streams are subject to this requirement.

4. Exempts removals for certain specified amounts if the removals are not from an area of natural resource interest, do not contain hazardous substances, and will be placed in an upland area.

5. Requires DNR to issue general permits for other removals that are within specified amounts.

Boathouses

Current law, with some exceptions, imposes a prohibition on placing a boathouse beyond the ordinary high-water mark of a navigable waterway. This bill creates an exemption for the construction, repair, or maintenance of a boathouse that is in compliance with all individual or general permitting requirements, that is used exclusively for commercial purposes, that is on land zoned exclusively for commercial or industrial purposes or is in a brownfield or blighted area, and that is located in a commercial harbor or on a tributary of Lake Michigan or Lake Superior. Current law defines a “brownfield” to be an industrial or commercial facility, the expansion or redevelopment of which is complicated by environmental contamination.

Notice, hearing, and decision provisions for individual permits

Under current law, for individual placement permits, bridge permits, removal permits, stream course permits, and enlargement permits, DNR must order a public hearing to be held within 60 days after receiving a complete application for the permit or provide notice (notice of application) that DNR will proceed on the application without a public hearing unless a substantive written objection is received within 30 days after the notice is published. DNR must provide the notice of application to various parties and to the applicant, who in turn must publish notice. Current law defines a “substantive written objection” to be one that gives the reasons why the issuance of the proposed permit will violate state law and that states that the person objecting will appear at the public hearing to present information supporting the objection. The applicant must publish the notice in a newspaper that is likely to give notice in the area where the waterway activity will be located (area newspaper).

If DNR does not receive a substantive written objection within the 30-day period, DNR proceeds on the permit application. If DNR receives such an objection, the public hearing must be held within 60 days after being ordered. At least 10 days before the hearing, the Division of Hearings and Appeals in the Department of Administration must mail a notice of the public hearing to the applicant, all of the parties who received the notice of application, and anyone who submitted a substantive written objection. The applicant again must publish the notice in an area newspaper.

Under current law, DNR may also use this notice and hearing procedure when it is not specifically required if DNR determines that substantial interests of any party may be adversely affected by the granting of the permit.

Under the bill, DNR must provide notice of a complete application to interested members of the public within 15 days after DNR determines that the application is complete. DNR must provide a period for public comment after providing notice that the application is complete. If no hearing is requested, the public comment period ends in 30 days.

If a public hearing is requested, the comment period ends 10 days after the conclusion of the hearing. The permit application may contain a request for a public hearing or any other person may request a hearing. DNR may also decide on its own to hold a hearing if it determines that there is a significant public interest in the permit. A hearing request must be submitted to DNR within 30 days of the notice that the application is complete. DNR must then provide notice within 15 days, and the hearing must be held within 30 days of the notice being complete. DNR must issue its decision within 30 days after the hearing.

If no hearing is to be held, then DNR must issue its decision within 30 days after the close of the comment period.

The changes to the applicability of the hearing and notice procedures for individual permits under the bill include the following:

1. The procedure applies to removal approvals and stream course permits, as well as the permits covered under current law.
2. The procedure applies to permits to place water ski jumps, replacing the procedures that apply to these permits under current law.
3. The bill repeals the authority that allowed DNR to use these notice and hearing procedures when they were not required to do so in making determinations that affected navigable waters and navigation.
4. The procedures specifically apply to applications for modifications of individual permits.

Administrative and court review of DNR decisions on individual permits

Under current law, if a substantial interest of a person is injured by an agency action and there is a dispute of material fact, that person has the right to an administrative hearing before an impartial hearing officer. The notice requirements, procedures, rules of evidence, records, and right to judicial review are specified in detail under current law.

Under this bill, an applicant for or holder of an individual permit, or five or more persons, may ask DNR for an administrative hearing regarding the issuance, denial, or modification of an individual permit, or regarding a term or condition of an individual permit. If DNR determines that the request for a hearing gives specific reasons why the department's decision violates state law, DNR is required to hold an administrative hearing. The bill requires that the hearing be conducted as a contested case hearing and be subject to current law's administrative hearing requirements regarding contested case hearings, including the procedures, rules of evidence, records, and right to judicial review.

Instead of requesting an administrative hearing to review the DNR decision, any person who has the right to request such a hearing may bring a court action to review DNR's decision. The bill requires the court to review the evidence and examine witnesses, rather than review the record of DNR's action. In addition, the bill allows a party to the administrative hearing to stop an administrative hearing and have the court take jurisdiction over the issues raised in the hearing. If an administrative hearing is removed to a court, that court is required by the bill to review the evidence and examine witnesses, independent of DNR's evidence review and witness examination.
