Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, a resident of Wisconsin may be a national guard member of an adjacent state. Currently, if a member of the Wisconsin national guard is prosecuted for any civil or criminal action for an act performed while performing military duty, he or she must be defended by an attorney appointed by the governor, and the state pays any expenses incurred or judgment rendered if the act was performed within the scope of the member's national guard duties. This bill extends that provision to include any resident of Wisconsin who is a member of the national guard of any state.

Currently, if a license that a Wisconsin national guard member holds would expire while he or she is on state active duty or on active duty in the U.S. armed forces, that license does not expire until 90 days after the service member is discharged from active duty. In addition, the service member may have the license extended until the next date that the license is usually renewed if he or she meets certain conditions. This bill extends those provisions to include any resident of Wisconsin who is a member of the national guard of any state.

Currently, a member of the Wisconsin national guard is given certain protections while he or she is in active state service that are similar to the protections given to active members of the U.S. armed forces, including the stay of any liability or court judgment, of any proceeding in court, and of any execution or attachment against the member; the limit on interest that may be incurred to 6% per year; the prohibition against an eviction or a mortgage foreclosure; and the right to terminate a lease without penalty. This bill extends those provisions to include any resident of Wisconsin who is a member of the national guard of any state.

The bill also gives any resident of Wisconsin who is a member of the national guard of any state the same reemployment rights as a member in active service in the Wisconsin national guard if that resident is called into active service and must leave his or her employment.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
