2     who take depositions.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, a deposition may be taken before a person authorized to administer oaths, including judges, court commissioners, administrative hearing officers, district attorneys, and court reporters. Generally, a deposition is taken before a court reporter, who records and transcribes the deposition. Currently, a deposition may not be taken before a disqualified person, which means a person who is a relative, employee, attorney, or counsel of any of the parties to the action; a relative or employee of the attorney or counsel of any of the parties; or a person who is financially interested in the action.

The bill expands the list of disqualified persons to include a person who is a party to the action. The bill also prohibits a person from taking a deposition unless the person has entered into a contract for court reporting services that is limited to a particular action or incident. The bill's prohibitions do not apply, however, to persons who take depositions for a public agency.
