Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, the Department of Health and Family Services (DHFS) is required to prepare printed informational materials relating to sudden infant death syndrome and to distribute those materials so as to maximize their availability to parents. DHFS is also required to promulgate rules requiring day care center licensees who are licensed to provide care and supervision for children under one year of age and the employees and volunteers of those licensees to receive training in sudden infant death syndrome before the license is issued or the employment or volunteer work commences. The Department of Workforce Development (DWD) is required to promulgate similar rules for day care providers who are certified to receive reimbursement under the Wisconsin Works (W-2) program and for the employees and volunteers of those providers. In addition, the Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention Board (CANPB) awards grants and administers statewide projects for the prevention of child abuse and neglect.

This substitute amendment creates similar requirements relating to shaken baby syndrome, which is defined in the substitute amendment as a severe form of brain injury that occurs when an infant or young child is shaken forcibly enough to cause the brain to rebound against his or her skull and requirements relating to impacted babies, which is defined as babies that suffer death or great bodily harm as a result of being thrown against a surface, hard or soft. Specifically, the substitute amendment requires the CANPB to purchase or prepare, or to arrange with a nonprofit organization that is dedicated to the prevention of shaken baby syndrome and impacted babies and the support of families affected by shaken baby syndrome or an impacted baby (nonprofit organization) to prepare, printed and audiovisual materials relating to shaken baby syndrome and impacted babies that include: information regarding the identification and prevention of shaken baby syndrome and impacted babies; the grave effects of shaking or throwing an infant or young child; appropriate ways to manage crying, fussing, or other causes that can lead a person to shake or throw an infant or young child; and a discussion of ways to reduce the risks that can lead a person to shake or throw an infant or young child.

The substitute amendment requires the parents of a newborn infant to be provided with a copy of those written materials as follows:

1. In the case of an infant born at or on route to a hospital or maternity home, by the attending physician, attending nurse-midwife, or a trained, designated staff member of the hospital or maternity home before the infant is discharged from the hospital or maternity home. That person is also required to inform the parents of the availability of those audiovisual materials and to make those audiovisual materials available for the parents to view.

2. In the case of an infant born elsewhere than at or on route to a hospital or maternity home, by the attending physician, attending nurse-midwife, or a trained, designated birth attendant within seven days after the birth of the infant. That person is also required to inform the parents of the availability of those audiovisual materials.

The substitute amendment also requires the person who provides those written materials to provide those parents with a form that includes all of the following:

1. A statement that the parent has been advised as to the grave effects of shaking or throwing on an infant or young child and of appropriate ways to manage crying, fussing, or other causes that can lead a person to shake or throw an infant or young child.

2. A telephone number that the parent may call to obtain assistance on how to care for an infant or young child.

3. A statement that the parent will share that information with all persons who provide care for the infant.

In addition, under the substitute amendment:

1. Before an individual may obtain a license to operate a day care center for children under five years of age or enter into a contract with a school board to provide a day care program for children under five years of age, the individual must receive training relating to shaken baby syndrome and impacted babies that is approved or provided by DHFS or that is provided by a nonprofit organization contracted by DHFS to provide that training.

2. Before an individual may be certified as a day care provider for children under five years of age under the W-2 program, the individual must receive training relating to shaken baby syndrome and impacted babies that is approved or provided by a county department of human services or social services (county department) or that is provided by a nonprofit organization contracted by that county department to provide the training.

3. Before an employee or volunteer of a day care center, of a day care provider, or of a day care program may provide care and supervision for children under five years of age, the employee or volunteer must receive training relating to shaken baby syndrome and impacted babies that is approved or provided by DHFS or the certifying county department or that is provided by a nonprofit organization contracted by DHFS or county department to provide that training.

The training must be provided by no later than the continuation date of the license or the renewal date of the certification or contract, whichever is applicable, or by two years after the effective date of the substitute amendment, whichever is sooner, for an individual who on the day before the initial applicability date of the substitute amendment: 1) already holds or has applied for a license to operate a day care center; 2) is already certified as a day care provider or has applied for that certification; 3) is already providing a day care program under a contract with a school board; or 4) is already an employee or volunteer of such a licensee, provider, or program.

In addition, the substitute amendment requires each school board to provide or arrange with a nonprofit organization or health care provider to provide age-appropriate instruction relating to shaken baby syndrome and impacted babies for pupils in one of grades 5 to 8 and in one of grades 10 to 12. The substitute amendment permits the person providing the instruction to provide to each pupil receiving the instruction a copy of the written materials purchased or prepared by the CANPB or prepared by the nonprofit organization, a presentation of the audiovisual materials purchased or prepared by the CANPB or prepared by the nonprofit organization, and an oral explanation of those written and audiovisual materials.

Moreover, the substitute amendment requires a county department or an Indian tribe that is providing home visitation services under DHFS's Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention Program or that is a provider of prenatal, postpartum, and young child care coordination services in Milwaukee County under the Medical Assistance program to provide to a recipient of those services, without cost, a copy
