Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, the Department of Health and Family Services (DHFS) funds and oversees the Treatment Alternative Program. Through this program, DHFS is required to make grants to enable grantees (who may be county, tribal, or nonprofit agencies) to provide assessments of and treatment for alcohol and other drug abuse, as an alternative to incarceration, to a person who: 1) is involved with the criminal justice system, either as a defendant or as a party to a diversion agreement; or 2) is currently or has previously been determined drug dependent. Current law requires DHFS to distribute the grants so that the program serves people in a variety of geographic locations. Current law also imposes certain requirements regarding: 1) communication between grantees and actors in the criminal justice system; 2) early identification of eligible participants; 3) assessment, referral, treatment, and monitoring procedures; and 4) data collection for program management and evaluation.

This bill establishes a new grant program, administered by the Office of Justice Assistance (OJA) in collaboration with DHFS and the Department of Corrections (DOC), for counties that provide alternatives to prosecution and incarceration for criminal offenders who abuse alcohol or other drugs. In order for a county (or a group of counties applying jointly) to be eligible for a grant, its (or their) program must: 1) meet the needs of people who abuse alcohol or other drugs and who may be or have been charged with or who have been convicted of a crime related to the use or abuse of alcohol or other drugs; 2) be designed to promote public safety, reduce prison and jail populations, reduce prosecution and incarceration costs, reduce recidivism, and improve the welfare of participants' families by meeting the comprehensive needs of participants (including needs relating to mental health, employment, stable housing, and family reunification); 3) establish eligibility criteria for participants (which must exclude persons charged with or convicted of a violent offense); 4) provide services that are consistent with evidence–based practices in substance abuse and mental health treatment and provide intensive case management through DHFS–certified providers; 5) use graduated sanctions and incentives; 6) integrate all mental health services provided to participants by state and local government agencies and other organizations; 7) require participants to pay a reasonable amount for their treatment, based on their income and available assets, and use all available private and public resources; and 8) be developed with input from a variety of specified individuals and agencies. The bill also specifies that a program that meets these requirements (regardless of whether it receives a grant) may entail participants being required to submit to monitoring technology or a day reporting program as a condition of participation and may entail the county contracting with or awarding grants to religious organizations.

A county that receives a grant under the bill must create an oversight committee to advise the county in administering and evaluating its program. It must also comply with state audits and submit an annual report to OJA and the oversight committee regarding the progress of the program in attaining its goals.

Part of the funding for the grants is provided through an increase in the amount assessed under the drug abuse program improvement surcharge program. Under current law, if a court imposes a fine for a violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act (ch. 961 of the statutes), the court must also impose a penalty surcharge, which is set at 24 percent of the amount of the fine, and a drug abuse program improvement surcharge, which is set at 50 percent of the sum of the fine and penalty surcharge. Money generated from drug abuse program improvement surcharges is used by DHFS on programs providing prevention, intervention, and treatment for alcohol and other drug abuse problems. This bill increases the amount assessed for each drug abuse program improvement surcharge, setting it at 75 percent of the sum of the fine and penalty surcharge. In addition, under the bill, one–third of the money generated by the drug abuse program improvement surcharge is to be used to fund the grant program created under the bill.

The bill also funds the grant program with money generated from drug offender diversion surcharges. Under the bill, the court must impose this new surcharge whenever a person is a convicted of a property crime (that is, a crime under ch. 943 of the statutes). The surcharge is $10 for each such conviction.

Finally, the bill creates certain evaluation and reporting requirements. First, under the bill, OJA must enter into one or more contracts with another person for the purpose of evaluating the grant program. Second, DHFS must submit a report to the legislature by December 31, 2006, specifying how it determined, for the purpose of the grant program, what are evidence–based practices in substance abuse and mental health treatment. Third, OJA, in collaboration with DHFS and DOC, must submit a report to the legislature by December 31, 2011, regarding savings that have been generated through the implementation of the grant program. The report must also include recommendations regarding how the grant program should be structured in the future.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. 16.964 (10) of the statutes is created to read:

16.964 (10) (a) In this subsection, "violent offender" means a person to whom one of the following applies:

The office shall make the grants from the appropriations under s. 20.505 (6) (e) and (kv). The office shall collaborate with the departments of corrections and health and family services in establishing this grant program.

2. The program is designed to promote public safety, reduce prison and jail populations, reduce prosecution and incarceration costs, reduce recidivism, and improve the welfare of participants' families by meeting the comprehensive needs of participants.

3. The program establishes eligibility criteria for a person's participation. The criteria shall specify that a violent offender is not eligible to participate in the program.

4. Services provided under the program are consistent with evidence–based practices in substance abuse and mental health treatment, as determined by the department of health and family services, and the program provides intensive case management.

5. The program uses graduated sanctions and incentives to promote successful substance abuse treatment.

6. The program provides holistic treatment to its participants and provides them services that may be needed, as determined under the program, to eliminate or reduce their use of alcohol or other drugs, improve their mental health, facilitate their gainful employment or enhanced education or training, provide them stable housing, facilitate family reunification, ensure payment of child support, and increase the payment of other court–ordered obligations.

7. The program is designed to integrate all mental health services provided to program participants by state and local government agencies and other organizations. The program shall require regular communication among a participant's substance abuse treatment providers, other service providers, the case manager, and any person designated under the program to monitor the person's compliance with his or her obligations under the program and any probation, extended supervision, and parole agent assigned to the participant.

8. The program provides substance abuse and mental health treatment services through providers that are certified by the department of health and family services.

9. The program requires participants to pay a reasonable amount for their treatment, based on their income and available assets, and pursues and uses all possible resources available through insurance and federal, state, and local aid programs, including cash, vouchers, and direct services.

10. The program is developed with input from, and implemented in collaboration with, one or more circuit court judges, the district attorney, the state public defender, local law enforcement officials, county agencies responsible for providing social services, including services relating to alcohol and other drug addiction, child welfare, mental health, and the Wisconsin works program, the

(c) 2. and 6.

(f) Two or more counties may jointly apply for and receive a grant under this subsection. If counties submit a joint application, they shall include with their application a written agreement specifying each county department's role in developing, administering, and evaluating the program. The oversight committee established under par. (e) 1. shall consist of representatives from each county.

(g) Grants provided under this subsection shall be provided on a calendar year basis beginning on January 1, 2007.
