Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

(X) This bill makes various changes in state laws relating to public financing of campaigns for the office of justice of the supreme court, fund raising during state budget consideration, ~~payment of legal defense costs,~~ representation by former state officials, ~~transfer of campaign moneys to defense funds,~~ and service by former legislators or legislative employees as lobbyists.

Public financing of campaigns for justice of the supreme court

This bill makes numerous changes in the campaign finance law affecting campaigns for the office of justice of the supreme court. The bill limits the application of the Wisconsin election campaign fund, under which eligible candidates for state offices (except district attorney, court of appeals judge, and circuit judge) may receive public grants from state general purpose revenues derived from designations made by individuals filing state income tax returns, to state offices other than the office of justice of the supreme court. To finance elections for the office of justice of the supreme court, the bill creates a democracy trust fund, under which eligible candidates for this office may receive public grants derived from general purpose revenues.

Under the bill, a candidate for the office of justice of the supreme court may qualify for public financing from the democracy trust fund to finance a campaign in a primary or election by receiving qualifying contributions of at least $5 but not more than $100 each made by electors of the state in an aggregate amount of at least $5,000 but not more than $15,000. A candidate who accepts public financing may also accept “seed money” contributions in amounts of $100 or less, subject to aggregate limitations, and may contribute personal funds in specified amounts during specified periods. In order to qualify for a public financing benefit for the primary, a candidate at the primary must have an opponent who qualifies to have his or her name appear on the ballot at the primary, and in order to qualify for a public financing benefit for the spring election, a candidate at the election must have an opponent who qualifies to have his or her name appear on the ballot at the election. A candidate who accepts public financing may not accept any contributions other than qualifying and seed money contributions and contributions from personal funds within the limitations permitted. Public financing benefits for eligible candidates are $100,000 in the primary election and $300,000 in the spring election. The benefits are subject to a biennial cost of living adjustment. A candidate who accepts more than a specified amount of qualifying or seed money contributions has the excess deducted from his or her public financing benefit. In addition, if a candidate’s opponent declines to accept public financing and makes expenditures in a total amount that exceeds by more than 5 percent the amount permitted for a candidate who accepts public financing, the candidate who accepts public financing receives additional funding equivalent to the excess expenditures made by his or her opponent, but not more than three times the amount of the public financing benefit for the office that the candidate seeks. A candidate also receives additional public financing equivalent to any independent expenditures made against the candidate or in support of his or her opponents if those expenditures exceed 20 percent of the amount of the public financing benefit for the office that the candidate seeks (but not more than three times the amount of that benefit).

Currently, a candidate for the office of justice of the supreme court may qualify to receive a grant from the Wisconsin election campaign fund for use in an election campaign only (no funding is provided for primary campaigns). In order to qualify for a grant, a candidate must qualify to have his or her name appear on the spring election ballot and must have an opponent who qualifies to have his or her name appear on that ballot. The maximum amount of a grant that a candidate may receive is $97,031. This amount is not subject to any cost of living adjustment. In addition, this amount is reduced by the total amount of contributions received by a candidate from special interest committees and this amount may not be fully funded in a particular year if there are not sufficient moneys in the Wisconsin election campaign fund to provide full financing for all qualifying candidates. A candidate must agree to abide by spending and self-contribution limits in order to receive a grant, but this agreement does not apply if the candidate has an opponent who could have qualified for a grant but declines to do so and declines to file an affidavit of voluntary compliance with spending and self-contribution limits.

Currently, individuals and committees making political contributions to candidates for the office of justice of the supreme court are subject to limitations on the amount or value of any contribution or contributions that may be made cumulatively to any candidate in a campaign. The limitations are $10,000 in the case of an individual making a contribution to a candidate and $8,625 in the case of a committee making a contribution to a candidate. This bill replaces these limitations with a contribution limitation of $1,000 applicable to an individual or committee making any contribution or contributions cumulatively to any candidate for the office of justice of the supreme court who is eligible to qualify for a public financing benefit but who declines to accept one, per campaign.

Fundraising during state budget consideration

This bill prohibits any person from making a contribution to an incumbent partisan state official or a candidate for a partisan state office during the period from the date of introduction of the executive budget bill through the date of enactment of the biennial budget act. The prohibition does not apply to an individual who is a candidate for a partisan state office at a special election during the period beginning on the date that the special election is ordered and ending on the date of the special election. In addition, the prohibition does not apply to a contribution made to an incumbent who is subject to a recall election beginning on the date on which a petitioner registers an intent to circulate a petition for a recall election against the incumbent and ending on the date of the recall election, except that if the circulation period expires without offering of the recall petition for filing, the filing officer determines not to file the petition, or the incumbent resigns, the period ends on the date of that event. Currently, there is no such prohibition.

BILL

Violators are subject to a forfeiture (civil penalty) of treble the amount or value of any unlawful contribution. Intentional violators are guilty of a misdemeanor and may be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than six months or both.

Representation by former state officials

Currently, with certain exceptions, no former state public official, for 12 months following the date on which he or she ceases to be a state public official, may, for compensation, on behalf of anyone other than a governmental entity, make any formal or informal appearance before, or negotiate with, any officer or employee of the department or agency with which he or she was associated as a state public official during the 12 months preceding the official's departure from state service. Additional restrictions apply with respect to matters in which a former state public official was involved while serving as a state public official.

This bill provides, in addition, that no former governor or state public official who was appointed to his or her position by the governor, for 12 months following the date on which he or she ceases to occupy the office of governor or the position to which he or she was appointed by the governor may, for compensation, on behalf of anyone other than a governmental entity, make any formal or informal appearance before, or negotiate with, any officer or employee in the executive branch of state government.

Service by former legislators and certain legislative employees as lobbyists

This bill prohibits any individual who serves as a member or employee of the legislature, except a nonpartisan employee, for 12 months following the date on which the individual ceases to hold his or her office or position, from being employed as a lobbyist for the purpose of attempting to influence state legislative action. A "lobbyist" means an individual who is compensated by a principal and whose duties include lobbying on behalf of the principal, except that an individual whose duties on behalf of a principal are not limited exclusively to lobbying is a "lobbyist" only if the individual makes lobbying communications on each of at least five days during a six-month reporting period.

Violators are subject to a forfeiture (civil penalty) of not more than $5,000 for each violation. Intentional violators are guilty of a misdemeanor and are subject to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $5,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year or both for each violation.

Payment of certain criminal defense costs and expenses

Under current law, the legislature appropriates moneys to itself and to other state agencies to be used to carry out the functions of the agencies as authorized by the laws and constitution of this state. The courts have held, in addition, that these moneys may only be used for a public purpose, which has been liberally construed. It is unlikely that, in most cases, the courts would consider a "public purpose" to include the payment of legal expenses or costs of a state officer or employee who is convicted of a criminal violation of any state law.

This bill provides specifically that no state officer or agency in any branch of state government may authorize payment or pay from any appropriation made by law to carry out a program of a state agency any legal expenses or costs incurred by any state officer or employee who is investigated for, charged with, or convicted of a criminal violation of the campaign finance law or the code of ethics for state public officials and employees, regardless of whether the officer or employee is convicted of a criminal offense. The bill does not preclude the claims board from awarding payment of a claim against the state made by a state officer or employee if the board finds that payment is justified based upon equitable principles.

Transfer of campaign moneys to defense funds

Currently, any person who is being investigated for, charged with, or convicted of a crime has the constitutional right to establish a defense fund and to solicit contributions to the fund. With certain exceptions, current state law also forbids moneys solicited for political purposes from being used for any nonpolitical purpose. Under the law, a nonpolitical purpose specifically includes supporting or defending a person who is being investigated for, charged with, or convicted of a criminal violation of any state or federal law, or an agent or dependent of such a person. One exception to the prohibition permits the use of the political moneys for payment of civil penalties incurred under the campaign finance law. Current state law also provides specifically that a candidate or public official who is being investigated for, charged with, or convicted of a criminal violation of the campaign finance law or a prohibited election practice, or whose agent is so investigated, charged, or convicted, may establish a defense fund to finance expenditures incurred in supporting or defending the person or agent or any dependent of the person or agent. No reporting is required, but the person who establishes the fund may not transfer moneys from a campaign account to a defense fund unless the permission of the contributor of the moneys is obtained.

This bill deletes current state law that specifically authorizes the creation of a statutory defense fund and that forbids transfers of moneys from a campaign finance account to a defense fund unless the permission of the contributor is obtained. Under the bill, it is still possible for the recipient of a contribution to return the contribution to the contributor. Once returned, the contributor may use the contribution for any lawful purpose, including the payment of legal defense costs. The bill retains current law regulating the permitted uses of moneys solicited for political purposes.

Because this bill creates a new crime or revises a penalty for an existing crime, the Joint Review Committee on Criminal Penalties may be requested to prepare a report concerning the proposed penalty and the costs or savings that are likely to result if the bill is enacted.

10 the elector is entitled to vote for or against the candidate in the election in connection
11 with which the violation is alleged to occur, the elector may file a complaint with the 12 board requesting it to take remedial action. If the board refuses to take remedial
13 action or, within 30 days after the filing of such a complaint, fails to take remedial
14 action, the elector may commence a civil action in the appropriate circuit court under 15 sub. (4) requesting the court to impose a forfeiture under sub. (1) or (2).

16 (6) The board and courts shall expedite all proceedings under ss. 11.502 to

13 (2) Any electronic or print communication paid for or authorized by a 14 nonparticipating candidate shall contain the following sentence: “This
