Subject: RE: Drafting request regarding combined protective services

Rep. Montgomery would like to allow the Village of Ashwaubenon to have the ability to continue offering combined protective services even after the Village exceeds the population cap of 20,000. I confess I don't know the specific details of the draft. My understanding of 2003 AB 262 is that the bill would allow all municipalities, with the exception of Milwaukee, to provide combined protective services. We would simply like to offer a scaled down version specifically dealing with the Village of Ashwaubenon. This is an issue I have just picked up so if you have any suggestions to help us attain this goal I would appreciate them.

Hi Adam:

How exactly would you like me to scale down this bill? Do you only want to include the parts of bill section 7 which contain population and date restrictions? Are there any other parts of 2003 AB 262 that you'd like to include? Thanks.

Marc,

Rep. Montgomery would like to have a scaled down version of 2003 AB 262 (relating to: authorizing cities and towns, and expanding the authority of villages, to create combined protective services departments) drafted to specifically impact the Village of Ashwaubenon. Currently the Village has combined protective services and is operating near the population cap of 20,000. The Village is growing and Rep. Montgomery would like to have this problem addressed prior to the Village exceeding the cap.

A link to the proposal is attached for your review. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

1 AN ACT ...; relating to: expanding the authority of villages to create combined
2 protective services departments.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Generally under current law, a village with a population of at least 5,000 is required to provide police protection services by creating its own police department, by contracting for police protection services with a city, village, or town, or by creating a joint police department with another city, village, or town. Also under current law, in general, a village with a population of at least 5,500 is required to provide fire protection services by creating its own fire department, by contracting for fire protection services with a city, village, or town, or by creating a joint fire department with another city, village, or town.

Current law also authorizes a village with a population of less than 20,000 to provide police and fire protection services in one of two additional ways. The first way is by using a combined protective services department, which is neither a police department nor a fire department, which was created before January 1, 1987, and in which the same person may be required to perform police protection and fire protection duties, subject to some limitations on consecutive hours that may be worked in police protection. The second way is by requiring persons in a police department or fire department, alone or in combination with persons designated as police officers or fire fighters, to perform police protection and fire protection duties, subject to some limitations on consecutive hours that may be worked in police protection. In either case, the village may designate any person required to perform police protection and fire protection duties as primarily a police officer or fire fighter
