3 and to create section 17 of article XIV of the constitution; relating to: deleting
4 from the constitution the office of secretary of state (first consideration).

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This proposed constitutional amendment, proposed to the 2005 legislature on first consideration, deletes from the constitution the office of secretary of state.

Secretary of state

Currently, the constitution assigns 4 duties to the secretary of state; all other duties are prescribed by law. The 4 duties prescribed by the constitution are: 1) to serve as governor when there is a vacancy in the office of lieutenant governor and the governor dies, resigns, or is removed from office, or to serve as acting governor when there is a vacancy in the office of lieutenant governor and the governor is absent from the state, impeached, or incapable of performing the duties of office; 2) to keep a fair record of the official acts of the legislature and executive department of the state; 3) to serve as a member of the board of commissioners for the sale of public lands; and 4) to keep the great seal of Wisconsin.

Under this proposal, the secretary of state is replaced by the attorney general in the line of gubernatorial succession. The proposal deletes the requirement that the secretary of state keep legislative and executive records. The proposal also removes the secretary of state as a member of the board of commissioners. Under the proposal, the constitution continues to provide for a great seal, but its placement is determined by law.

Terms of incumbent

The last election for secretary of state required by the constitution will be the one held in November 2006. The incumbent will continue to serve until the first Monday in January 2011.

Board of commissioners

The three-member board of commissioners for the sale of public lands presently consists of the secretary of state, state treasurer, and attorney general. Under this proposal, the state superintendent of public instruction becomes a member.

Second consideration and ratification

A proposed constitutional amendment requires adoption by 2 successive legislatures, and ratification by the people, before it can become effective.
