Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, a person who owns land that has been assessed, for property tax purposes, as agricultural land and who converts the land's use so that the land may not be assessed as agricultural land must pay a penalty to the county in which the land is located. The county pays 50 percent of the amount of the penalty to the taxation district in which the land is located. Under this bill, the county must pay the taxation district's share of the penalty to the taxation district no later than August 20 of each year.
