CURRENT LAW

HOUSE-TO-HOUSE EMPLOYMENT OF MINORS

Under current law, no person may employ, offer to employ, or recruit a minor to sell goods or services from house-to-house (house-to-house street trades) without obtaining a house-to-house employer certificate from the Department of Workforce Development (DWD). A person may obtain a house-to-house employer certificate by submitting an application to DWD that contains certain information required under current law, including documentation proving that the person has the ability to pay any compensation owed to a minor employee, which proof may be in the form of a bond, certificate of deposit, escrow account, or irrevocable letter of credit in an amount of at least $5,000 (proof of financial responsibility). If the applicant establishes proof of financial responsibility and if DWD is satisfied that the applicant will comply with the laws relating to house-to-house street trades, DWD must issue a house-to-house employer certificate, which is valid for a 12-month period.

When a minor applies for a job in house-to-house street trades, the house-to-house employer must inform the minor in writing of the terms and conditions of employment, including the compensation to be paid, the time and manner of payment of compensation, the number of days per week and hours per day that the minor would be required to conduct house-to-house street trades, the nature and frequency of required employment-related meetings and how compensation is paid for attendance at those meetings, whether and how the employer provides transportation, and the expenses that the minor would be required to pay. A house-to-house employer may change those terms and conditions by a supplemental document in writing, if the change applies prospectively only.

DWD may suspend or revoke a house-to-house employer certificate if the employer submits false information in the application, fails to notify DWD of any change in that information within 30 days after the change occurs, fails to comply with the terms and conditions of a written disclosure statement, fails to maintain proof of financial responsibility, or fails to comply with the laws relating to house-to-house street trades.

THE SUBSTITUTE AMENDMENT

TRAVELING SALES CREWS

Introduction

This substitute amendment regulates traveling sales crews, which the substitute amendment defines as a group of three or more traveling sales crew members, by doing all of the following:

1. Requiring a traveling sales crew operator to obtain a certificate of registration from DWD before the operator may use a traveling sales crew to engage in the sale of goods or services to consumers from house to house or on any street or in related support work, including operating a motor vehicle, on the person's behalf (traveling sales crew activities) or employ, offer to employ, or otherwise recruit a person to work as a traveling sales crew member.

2. Requiring a traveling sales crew operator to obtain a permit for a traveling sales crew member before the member may be permitted to work in traveling sales crew activities. The substitute amendment defines "traveling sales crew member" as a person who engages in traveling sales crew activities as part of or in association with a traveling sales crew, who travels with the traveling sales crew overnight away from his or her permanent place of residence, and who maintains no fixed place of local residence (lodging in this state at which the person has tenancy for at least one month) or fixed retail establishment in this state. The substitute amendment excludes from the definition of "traveling sales crew member" a person who maintains a fixed place of local residence or a fixed retail establishment in this state, who is a reseller of goods that the person buys at wholesale and to which the person takes title, or who sells services that are regulated by the office of the Commissioner of Insurance or the Federal Communications Commission.

3. Requiring a traveling sales crew operator to comply with certain obligations to a traveling sales crew member, including obligations relating to the disclosure of certain information, record keeping, payment of compensation, deductions from compensation, and transportation and housing safety.

4. Prohibiting a traveling sales crew operator from engaging in certain prohibited practices, such as permitting a minor or incompetent adult to work on a traveling sales crew, requiring a traveling sales crew member to work during certain hours or to relinquish custody of his or her property, prohibiting a traveling sales crew member from contacting his or her family, inflicting or threatening to inflict bodily harm on a traveling sales crew member, advising a traveling sales crew member to make false representations in offering goods or services for sale, and discharging or discriminating against any person for opposing a practice prohibited under the substitute amendment.

5. Providing provisions to enforce the substitute amendment, including penalties and injunctive relief for a violation of the substitute amendment, any rules promulgated under the substitute amendment, or any order issued by DWD under the substitute amendment or for hindering or delaying DWD in the performance of its duties, or a law enforcement officer in the performance of his or her duties, under the substitute amendment.

Traveling sales crew operator registration

Under the substitute amendment, a person may not use a traveling sales crew to engage in traveling sales crew activities on the person's behalf or recruit a person to work as a traveling sales crew member unless the person first obtains a certificate of registration from DWD. A person may obtain a certificate of registration by filing with DWD a written application, meeting the standards under the substitute amendment and under rules promulgated by DWD for issuance of a certificate of registration, and paying a registration fee determined by DWD by rule. The application must contain certain information specified in the substitute amendment, including all of the following:

1. A designation of an agency upon whom service of process may be made in this state.
2. The social security number or federal employer identification number of the applicant.
3. Any other information that DWD considers necessary for the protection of the health, safety, and welfare of the traveling sales crew members working on behalf of the applicant, the consumers of goods or services sold by those members, and the public.

After completing any investigation that DWD considers appropriate, DWD must issue a certificate of registration, which is valid for a 12-month period, if the applicant meets the standards for issuance of a certificate of registration. DWD may deny, suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew a certificate of registration if DWD determines that the applicant has been convicted of any crime.

Traveling sales crew member permits

The substitute amendment prohibits a person from being permitted to work as a traveling sales crew member unless the traveling sales crew operator on whose behalf the person will be working first obtains from DWD a traveling sales crew member permit (permit) for the person. A traveling sales crew operator may obtain a permit for a traveling sales crew member by the operator filing with DWD a written application and paying a registration fee determined by DWD by rule and by the member meeting the standards under the substitute amendment and under rules promulgated by DWD for issuance of a permit. The application must contain certain information specified in the substitute amendment, including all of the following:

1. The social security number of the applicant.
2. Any other information that DWD considers necessary for the protection of the health, safety, and welfare of the traveling sales crew members working on behalf of the traveling sales crew operator, the consumers of goods or services sold by those members, and the public.

After completing any investigation that DWD considers appropriate, DWD must issue a permit, which is valid for a 12-month period, if the traveling sales crew member meets the standards for issuance of a certificate of registration. DWD may deny, suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew a permit if DWD determines that the traveling sales crew member has been convicted of any crime.

The bill also requires a traveling sales crew member to carry at all times while engaged in traveling sales crew activities the member's permit and an identification card issued by a state or federal governmental agency that includes, at a minimum, a photograph of the member.

Obligations of traveling sales crew operators to members

Disclosure statement. The substitute amendment requires a traveling sales crew operator to provide a person who is recruited to work as a traveling sales crew member with a written disclosure statement that includes all of the following information:

1. The address of the principal place of business of the traveling sales crew operator or of the agent for service of process.
2. The compensation to be paid.
3. The type or types of work that the person may be required to perform.
4. The frequency of wage payments to traveling sales crew members.
5. The period of engagement.
6. A description of the transportation, board, lodging, and other benefits to be provided and any costs chargeable to the person for those benefits.

Records. The substitute amendment also requires a traveling sales crew operator to keep records, with respect to each traveling sales crew member working on behalf of the traveling sales crew operator, of all of the following information:

1. The basis on which compensation is paid.
2. The number of piecework units earned, if the traveling sales crew member is paid on a piecework basis.
3. The number of hours worked.
4. The total earnings of the traveling sales crew member for a pay period.
5. The specific sums withheld from the traveling sales crew member's pay and the purpose of each sum withheld.
6. The net pay of the traveling sales crew member for a pay period.

The traveling sales crew operator must provide that information to a traveling sales crew member when compensation is paid.

Payment of compensation; deductions. In addition, the substitute amendment does all of the following:

1. Requires a traveling sales crew operator to pay all compensation owed to a traveling sales crew member promptly, when due, in U.S. currency or by a negotiable instrument such as a bank check or draft.

2. Permits a traveling sales crew operator to deduct from a traveling sales crew member's compensation the reasonable cost to the operator of furnishing board, lodging, or other facilities to the member, but only if the board, lodging, or other facilities are customarily furnished by the operator to its members and if the amount deducted does not exceed the fair market value of the board, lodging, or other facilities and does not include any profit to the operator.

3. Prohibits a traveling sales crew operator from imposing on any traveling sales crew member any of the traveling sales crew operator's business expenses, including the cost of maintaining and operating a motor vehicle that is used to transport traveling sales crew members.

Transportation safety. Moreover, the substitute amendment requires a traveling sales crew operator to do all of the following:

1. Ensure that each motor vehicle that the operator uses or causes to be used to transport traveling sales crew members conforms to all applicable state and federal safety standards.

2. Ensure that each person who operates a motor vehicle that is used to transport a traveling sales crew member has a valid and appropriate driver's license.

3. Have in force, for each motor vehicle used to transport a traveling sales crew member, a policy of insurance or a liability bond that insures the operator, in an amount prescribed by DWD by rule, against liability for damages to persons and property arising out of the ownership or operation of the motor vehicle for that purpose or out of causing the motor vehicle to be operated for that purpose.

Housing safety. Finally, with respect to the obligations of a traveling sales crew operator to a traveling sales crew member, the substitute amendment requires a traveling sales crew operator to ensure that any facility or property that is used to house a traveling sales crew member complies with all federal, state, and local safety and health standards that are applicable to the facility or property.

Prohibited practices

The substitute amendment prohibits a traveling sales crew operator or any other person on behalf of a traveling sales crew operator from doing any of the following:

1. Permitting to work as a traveling sales crew member a minor or permitting to work as a traveling sales crew member an adult who has been adjudged incompetent without the permission of the person's guardian.

2. Requiring a traveling sales crew member to engage in any in-person sales or solicitation activities before 9:00 a.m. or after 9:00 p.m.

3. Requiring a traveling sales crew member to relinquish custody of any of his or her personal property to the traveling sales crew operator, to any other traveling sales crew member working on behalf of the operator, or to any other person.

4. Prohibiting or restricting a traveling sales crew member from contacting any family member, friend, or other person while traveling with the traveling sales crew.

5. Intentionally inflicting or threatening to inflict any bodily harm on a traveling sales crew member or damage to the property of a traveling sales crew member.

6. Advising or counseling a traveling sales crew member to make false representations to a person to whom he or she is offering goods or services for sale.

7. Discharging or discriminating against any person for opposing any practice prohibited under the substitute amendment.

Enforcement

Finally, under the substitute amendment:

1. Any person who willfully and knowingly violates the substitute amendment, any rule promulgated under the substitute amendment, or any order issued by DWD under the substitute amendment or who hinders or delays DWD in the performance of its duties or hinders or delays any law enforcement officer in the performance of his or her duties under the substitute amendment (violation) may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year in the county jail or both and any person who, having been convicted of a prior violation, willfully and knowingly commits a subsequent violation may be fined not more than $50,000 or imprisoned for not more than three years and six months or both.

2. Any person who commits a violation, but not willfully and knowingly, may be required to forfeit $10,000, depending on the gravity of the violation and the previous record of the person in terms of compliance with the substitute amendment, any rules promulgated under the substitute amendment, and any orders issued by DWD under the substitute amendment.

3. If DWD determines that any person has committed a violation, DWD may refer the matter to the attorney general or the district attorney of the county in which the violation occurred, and the attorney general or district attorney may bring a civil action for appropriate injunctive relief.
