Hi Aaron,

We'd like to drop all of the reporting language and also revert back to the driver's ed. language included in the original draft, where we just require instruction on these kinds of accidents.

I think this should leave us with a simple bill that requires a public outreach effort and a change in the driver's ed. curriculum. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,

Eric

The bill also requires DOT to establish and maintain a database of injuries and deaths in off-highway accidents involving light motor vehicles, which are those weighing 10,000 pounds or less, not including motorcycles. or object or a single-vehicle rollover of the vehicle. This database must be available to the public and must include specified information.

The bill requires law enforcement agencies that respond to an emergency call related to an off-highway accident to report to DOT: 1) the age of each child involved in the accident; 2) if the accident did not result in death, the type of injury resulting from the accident; 3) the cause of injury or death resulting from the accident and any pertinent circumstances relating to the injury or death; and 4) the make, model, and model year of the light motor vehicle involved in the accident and the relationship, if any, between the owner of the vehicle and the child involved in the accident. If a fire department, emergency medical technician, or other first responder responds to an emergency call related to an off-highway accident and no law enforcement agency responds to the emergency call, the first to arrive at the scene of the accident must provide to DOT this same information.

The bill also requires the Department of Public Instruction (DPI), in consultation with the Technical College System Board and DOT, to conduct a study of whether and to what extent driver education courses include course instruction on the risks to children left unattended in vehicles and the risks to children relating to backover incidents and accidental activation of power windows. DPI must submit a report summarizing the results of this study to the legislature by July 1, 2009.

Hi Eric,

As far as the driver's ed part, it is not the same people formulating the curriculum under bill sections 1, 3, and 5 (as bill sections 2 and 4) and putting this language into the driver's ed stats would make the provisions quite awkward - but I can do it if that's what you want.

Eric,
Is this what you had in mind:

02/29/2008

p. 3 lines 15-17 would be changed to read:

"of the hazards to young children in potential off-highway accident, as defined in s. 85.07 (9), situations, and including information on risks to young children left unattended in vehicles, on ways in which parents and caregivers can reduce risks to young children relating to backover incidents and accidental activation of power windows, and on any other risks that the department determines should be addressed, as well as accident statistics and other pertinent data related to these hazards."

Please let me know. Also, feel free to delete or alter the language above to reflect your intent. Thanks. Aaron

2 (11) (d) and 343.71 (5) (d) of the statutes; relating to: creating a child safety
3 program in the Department of Transportation, driver education instruction,
4 information mailed in connection with motor vehicle operator's license
5 renewal, and requiring the exercise of rule-making authority.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Current law requires all driver education courses offered by school districts, county children with disabilities education boards, technical college districts, and driver schools to provide instruction related to farm machinery, animal, and railroad grade crossing hazards, organ and tissue donation, and motorcycle, bicycle, and pedestrian awareness.

This bill requires driver education courses to also acquaint each student with the hazards posed by motor vehicle blind spots and by backing motor vehicles around young children and to provide instruction in safely dealing with such hazards.

Under current law, the Department of Transportation (DOT) must mail a notice to each person holding an operator's license, at least 30 days before license expiration, advising of the date on which the license must be renewed.

This bill requires DOT to include with this notice a one-page informational sheet reminding licensees of the hazards posed by motor vehicle blind spots and by backing motor vehicles around young children and including accident statistics and other pertinent data related to these hazards.
