Organ Transplant Team
SJResolution Draft

Whereas, on June 4, 2007 Six members of a medical team from the University of Michigan were returning from Milwaukee with organs for a transplant patient when they lost their lives in a tragic plane crash off the Milwaukee lakefront in Lake Michigan; and,

Whereas, the transplant team had departed Milwaukee in the afternoon with organs it had procured for a patient at the University of Michigan Health System Hospital; and,

Whereas, aboard the aircraft were members of the University's Survival Flight Team; David Ashburn, M.C., a fellow (physician in training) in pediatric cardiothoracic surgery; Richard Chenault II, a transplant donation specialist with the UM Transplant Program; Dennis Hoyes, a Marlin air pilot; Richard Lapensee, a transplant donation specialist with the UM Transplant Program; Bill Serra, a Marlin air pilot; and Martinus (Martin) Spoor, M.D., a cardiac surgeon who had been on the UM faculty since 2003; and,

Whereas, For nearly 25 years, the Survival Flight helicopters have safely transported critically ill and injured patients of all ages from hospitals and accident sites across the state to the University of Michigan Health System for specialized care, aid in rescue operations and transport harvest teams for organ donations; and,

Whereas, the University of Michigan performs nearly 400 organ transplants per year in both adults and children, requiring the dedicated, professional involvement of approximately 125 surgeons, nurses, perfusionists and transplant coordinators working for the University of Michigan Transplant Center, making it the largest and most experienced transplant center in Michigan - and among the largest in the nation.; and,

Whereas, Since 1964 more than 7,109 children and adults have benefited from the life-saving efforts of the University of Michigan Transplant Center, and today, the University of Michigan Transplant Center performs kidney, liver, heart, lung and pancreas transplants; and,

Deleted: v

Whereas, transplant surgery requires the precise coordination of dozens of doctors, technicians, hospital administrators, families and transport vehicles; and,

Whereas, the loss of these individuals whose lives were devoted to helping others in need of specialized care will be sorely missed by both their families, their colleagues, and those whose lives they touched; now,

Now therefore, the members of the Wisconsin Senate, would like to extend their condolences to the families of David Ashburn, M.D., Richard Chenault II, Dennis Hoyes, Richard Lapensee, Bill Serra and Martinus (Martin) Spoor, M.D.
