FOR 2007-09 BUDGET -- NOT READY FOR INTRODUCTION

1 AN ACT ...; relating to: motor vehicle operator's licenses and identification cards
2 issued by the Department of Transportation and granting rule-making
3 authority.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

TRANSPORTATION

DRIVERS AND MOTOR VEHICLES

On May 11, 2005, the federal REAL ID Act of 2005 (the act) was signed into law. Beginning three years after the date of enactment, a federal agency may not accept, for any "official purpose," a motor vehicle operator's license or identification card issued by a state to any person unless the state satisfies requirements contained in the act. Under the act, an "official purpose" includes accessing federal facilities, boarding federally regulated commercial aircraft, and any other purpose identified by the federal Department of Homeland Security (DHS). State compliance with requirements under the act must be certified by the state to DHS. This bill incorporates into state law the requirements contained in the act necessary for federal agencies to recognize for an "official purpose" operator's licenses and identification cards issued by this state.

Under current law, an applicant for an operator's license or identification card issued by DOT must provide certain information, including the person's full name, residence address, date of birth, sex, physically descriptive information, and social security number or a statement that the person does not have a social security number. DOT must also take a photograph of each applicant for an identification card and, with certain exceptions, of each applicant for an operator's license. In addition, as a result of 2005 Act 126, an applicant for an operator's license or identification card must present documentary proof that the person is either a United States citizen or legally present in the United States. DOT may not issue an operator's license to an applicant who has not provided this documentary proof of citizenship or legal presence, who is not a resident of this state, or who has not provided satisfactory proof of his or her name and date of birth. Each operator's license and identification card issued by DOT must contain, on the front side, the person's full name, date of birth, residence address, a color photograph of the person (unless an exception applies), a physical description of the person (including sex), the license or card number, a facsimile of the person's signature or a space to immediately write the signature, the date of issuance, and the expiration date.

Under current law, DOT may issue a receipt to any applicant for an operator's license, which receipt constitutes a temporary license to operate a motor vehicle while the license application is being processed. This temporary license is not valid for more than 30 days.

Under this bill, DOT may not complete the processing of an application for initial issuance or renewal of an operator's license or identification card received by DOT after May 10, 2008, and no such license or identification card may be issued or renewed, unless the applicant presents or provides, and DOT verifies, all of the following information:

1. An identification document that includes either the applicant's photograph or both the applicant's full legal name and date of birth.
2. Documentation showing the applicant's date of birth, which may be the identification document in item 1.
3. Proof of the applicant's social security number or verification that the applicant is not eligible for a social security number.
4. Documentation showing the applicant's name and address of principal residence.
5. Valid documentary proof that the individual is a citizen or national of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent or temporary residence in the United States or has any of other specified forms of legal status or authorization.

DOT must, in processing the application for an operator's license or identification card, capture a digital image of each document presented or provided. These digital images must be retained, in electronic storage and in a transferable format, in the applicant's file or record for at least ten years. DOT must verify each document required to be presented or provided to DOT in the manner and to the extent required under federal law. DOT must record in the applicant's file or record the date on which verification is completed. DOT may issue a receipt effective as a temporary operator's license or identification card for the period during which DOT processes an application. The bill also allows DOT to promulgate rules requiring applications for reinstatement of operator's licenses or identification cards, issuance of occupational licenses, reissuance of operator's licenses, or issuance of duplicate licenses to be processed in the same manner.

The bill does not require that DOT follow this procedure for processing an application for initial issuance or renewal of an operator's license or identification card received by DOT after May 10, 2008, if in connection with a prior application after May 10, 2008, the applicant previously presented or provided, and DOT verified, all of this information and DOT recorded the date on which the verification procedures were completed in DOT's file or record of the applicant. However, DOT must establish an effective procedure to confirm or verify such an applicant's renewal information.

The bill requires that, for certain noncitizen applicants who present or provide specified forms of status or authorization of legal presence in the United States, DOT issue operator's licenses or identification cards displaying, on the front of the license or card, a legend identifying the license as temporary. An operator's license or identification card displaying such a legend may not be renewed unless the applicant presents or provides valid documentary proof showing that DHS extended the status by which the applicant qualified for the license or identification card.

Under current law, as a result of 2005 Act 126, an operator's license or identification card issued to a noncitizen must expire on the date that the person's legal presence in the United States is no longer authorized unless the documentary proof provided to show authorized legal presence does not state an end date for the person's authorized legal presence.

Under this bill, an operator's license or identification card issued to a noncitizen displaying a legend identifying the license or card as temporary must expire on the date that the person's legal presence in the United States is no longer authorized or, if the documentary proof provided to show authorized legal presence does not state an end date for the person's authorized legal presence, one year after the date of license or identification card issuance. The bill also specifies that DOT must cancel an operator's license or identification card upon receiving information from a local, state, or federal government agency that the applicant no longer satisfies the legal presence requirements for issuance of a license or identification card.

Under current law, most operator's licenses issued by DOT must be renewed every eight years, and identification cards must be renewed every four years. To renew most operator's licenses, DOT must administer an examination of the applicant's eyesight and take the applicant's photograph.

Under this bill, for any license renewal at other than an eight-year interval based upon a license expiration related to the period of the person's authorized legal presence, DOT may determine whether to take the applicant's photograph or to examine the applicant, or both, at the time of the renewal, so long as the applicant's photograph is taken, and the applicant is examined, with a license renewal at least once every eight years and the applicant's license at all times includes a photograph. For any identification card renewal at other than a four-year interval based upon a license expiration related to the period of the person's authorized legal presence, DOT may determine whether to take the applicant's photograph at the time of the renewal, so long as the applicant's photograph is taken with a card renewal at least once every four years and the applicant's card at all times includes a photograph.

The bill specifies that each operator's license or identification card must include the applicant's full legal name, principal residence address, and signature. Every operator's license and identification card must also include a digital color photograph of the applicant, including facial image capture. The bill also specifies that an applicant who does not provide a social security number must provide the basis for his or her ineligibility for a social security number. The bill retains the requirement under current law that the operator's license expiration date appear on the license, which usually will coincide with the date of expiration of a noncitizen's authorized legal presence. However, where the date of expiration of a noncitizen's authorized legal presence is later than the date of expiration of the operator's license, the bill eliminates any requirement created under 2005 Act 126 that the date of expiration of the person's authorized legal presence appear on the license in addition to the date of expiration of the license.

Under current law, each operator's license must be, to the maximum extent practicable, tamper proof. This bill requires that each operator's license and identification card contain physical security features consistent with any requirement under federal law.

Under current law, DOT may not issue an operator's license to a person previously licensed in another state unless the person surrenders to DOT any valid operator's license issued to the person by another state. This bill prohibits DOT from issuing an identification card to a person previously licensed in another state unless the person surrenders to DOT any valid operator's license issued to the person by another state.

Under current law, DOT must, upon request, provide to the commercial driver license information system and the driver licensing agencies of other states any applicant or driver record information maintained by DOT. This bill specifies that DOT must, upon request, provide to any driver licensing agency of another state, the District of Columbia, any province of Canada, or any U.S. commonwealth, territory, or possession electronic access to any record or file of an operator's license or identification card applicant, including any photograph, signature, or social security number appearing in such a record or file. The bill also allows DOT to provide to DHFS certain applicant information for the sole purpose of verification by DHFS of birth certificate information.

The bill requires that DOT record in each licensee's operating record, and in each identification card holder's record, the information in all data fields printed on the person's license or card. DOT must also record in each person's operating record any demerit points assessed to the person.

The bill requires DOT to implement certain security procedures with regard to the issuance of operator's licenses and identification cards. The bill requires DOT to perform background investigations, which may include the use of fingerprint analyses by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, on any person who is hired to fill a position in the division of DOT responsible for issuing operator's licenses and identification cards (presently the Division of Motor Vehicles, DMV). In addition, at any interval determined appropriate by DOT, DOT may conduct additional background investigations of these newly hired DMV employees and of any other DMV employees. The background investigations are for the purpose of verifying identity and obtaining criminal histories.

DOT must also require, as a precondition to allowing access to any information system in which is stored information maintained by DMV, that any person to whom access is granted submit to a background investigation conducted by the person's employer. This background investigation may include having the person fingerprinted and having the fingerprints submitted to the FBI for purposes of verifying the person's identity and obtaining records of his or her criminal arrests and convictions. The employer must certify the results of the background investigation and, based upon these results, DOT may deny or restrict access to DMV information. DOT must promulgate rules governing these background investigations and the confidentiality of background information obtained by employers or by DOT.

Under current law, to renew most operator's licenses, DOT must administer an examination of the applicant's eyesight and make provisions for giving eyesight examinations at examining stations in each county. The applicant generally must appear at the examining station nearest his or her residence. Under this bill, DOT eyesight examinations at examining stations are not required to be provided in each county, and the applicant need not appear at the examining station nearest his or her residence. The bill also extends, from 10 days to 30 days, the period in which an applicant or holder of an operator's license or identification card must inform DOT of a change of address or name.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
