Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, the State of Wisconsin Investment Board (SWIB) has authority to manage and invest Wisconsin Retirement System contributions, which comprise the public employee trust fund. A core retirement investment trust (core trust) and a variable retirement investment trust (variable trust) are maintained in the public employee trust fund. SWIB may invest assets of the core trust and the variable trust in specific classes of investments enumerated by statute (authorized lists).

Under this bill, instead of its investment authority being limited to the authorized lists, SWIB may manage the money and property of the core trust and the variable trust in any manner that does not violate SWIB's standard of responsibility. However, SWIB must continue to invest assets of the variable trust primarily in equity securities. SWIB's standard of responsibility is: (1) to manage the money and property with the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent person acting in a similar capacity, with the same resources, and familiar with like matters, exercises in the conduct of an enterprise of a like character with like aims; (2) to diversify investments in order to minimize the risk of large losses, unless under the circumstances it is clearly prudent not to do so, considering each trust's or fund's portfolio as a whole at any point in time; and

ASSEMBLY BILL 623

(3) to administer assets of each trust or fund solely for the purpose of ensuring the fulfillment of the purpose of each trust or fund at a reasonable cost and not for any other purpose.

The bill also makes minor modifications to SWIB's statutory standard of responsibility with respect to terminology and interaction with other statutory provisions. In so doing, the bill clarifies two exceptions when the standard of responsibility described above does not apply to SWIB.

Under current law, the building commission may direct that moneys resulting from certain public debt be deposited in funds or accounts created or designated by a building commission resolution. Moneys deposited or held in these funds or accounts may be invested in any obligations specified by a building commission resolution. This bill explicitly authorizes SWIB to manage these funds and specifies that SWIB must invest these funds as provided by the building commission resolution and, in doing so, is relieved of its statutory standard of responsibility.
