purposes, authority, and responsibilities of the Educational Approval Board and the regulation of schools by that board.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, the Educational Approval Board (EAB) is required to protect the general public by inspecting and approving private trade, correspondence, business, and technical schools, changes of ownership or control of those schools, teaching locations used by those schools, and courses of instruction offered by those schools and by regulating the soliciting of students for courses and courses of instruction offered by those schools. In particular, the EAB is required to perform certain actions to protect students, prevent fraud, and encourage generally accepted educational standards at those schools. Those actions include requiring schools offering courses and courses of instruction to residents of this state to furnish information concerning their facilities, curricula, instructors, enrollment policies, tuition and other charges and fees, refund policies, and policies concerning the negotiability of promissory instruments received in payment of tuition and other charges.

Current law also prohibits a solicitor representing any school from soliciting students for a course or course of instruction for a consideration or remuneration, except upon the actual business premises of the school, unless the solicitor first secures a solicitor’s permit from the EAB and includes provisions relating to application and issuance of solicitor’s permits, refusal or revocation of those permits, and consequences for soliciting students without a permit. Moreover, current law permits the EAB to indemnify a student, parent, or sponsor from an appropriation commonly referred to as the student protection fund, if a school closure results in losses to the student, parent, or sponsor. Finally, current law permits the EAB or the Wisconsin Association of Independent Colleges and Universities (WAICU) to take possession of the student records of a school that has discontinued its operations, is proposing to discontinue its operations, or is in imminent danger of discontinuing its operations, if the records are in danger of being destroyed, secreted, mislaid, or otherwise being made unavailable to the person who is the subject of the record.
This bill moves the powers and duties of the EAB from a chapter of the statutes relating to the technical college system to its own newly created chapter, reorganizes those powers and duties, and makes various substantive changes with respect to those powers and duties. Specifically, the bill does the following:

1. purposes. Specifies that the purposes of the EAB are to protect the general public and to support quality educational options and requires the EAB to accomplish those purposes by doing all of the following:

   a. Evaluating and approving schools, which the bill redefines to mean, subject to certain exceptions, any individual, partnership, association, corporation, or limited liability company, whether located within or outside this state, that offers, maintains, provides, or conducts for a fee a course of study that provides practical or academic instruction, education, or training leading to a diploma, certificate, or other indicia that a student has acquired knowledge or skills (program), including any private trade, technical, career, distance learning, or degree−granting school.

   b. Collecting and disseminating outcome and satisfaction information for the students of schools.

   c. Performing annual reviews of schools.

   d. Conducting regular on−site evaluations of schools.

   e. Holding schools accountable for improving their performance and effectiveness.

   f. Supporting options for innovative and quality programs offered by schools.

2. Accountability. Requires the EAB to develop, periodically review, and, if appropriate, revise a strategic plan that includes specific goals, objectives, and measurable results and to use the strategic plan to evaluate annually its performance and effectiveness.

3. Authority. Requires the EAB to approve schools, programs, changes of ownership or control of schools, teaching locations used by schools, and school representatives who, in places other than a school, attempt to secure the enrollment of students in the school that meet the requirements and standards established by the EAB and that comply with rules promulgated by the EAB.

4. Responsibility. Requires the EAB to perform certain actions to hold schools accountable for achieving satisfactory student outcomes and to ensure that programs meet generally accepted educational, occupational, and industry standards, including establishing standards and criteria for approving schools offering programs that are delivered primarily by distance learning and requiring a school, prior to enrolling a student who is a resident of this state, to provide the student with a catalog that includes information about the following:

   a. The school’s mission, facilities, programs, and instructors.

   b. The school’s policies concerning enrollment and admissions, academic progress, and student conduct.

   c. Student services, including employment assistance services, the school provides.

   d. The school’s complaint procedures.

   e. Student outcome and satisfaction information.
f. The school’s fees, refund policies, and policies concerning the negotiability of promissory instruments received in payment of fees.

g. Any other information the EAB considers necessary to hold schools accountable for achieving satisfactory student outcomes and to ensure that programs meet generally accepted educational, occupational, and industry standards.

5. Reporting. Requires an approved school to submit annually to the EAB all of the following:

a. Information about the school as prescribed by the EAB, including a current school catalog, an enrollment contract, if one is used, copies of advertising used by the school, and financial information as the EAB considers necessary.

b. Student satisfaction and outcome information, including information on the number of students from the prior year who are continuing in the current year, the number of new students starting in the current year, the number of students who have dropped out or withdrawn since the prior year, the number of students who are anticipated to continue next year, the number of students completing a program, the number of completers successfully employed, and such other information as the EAB considers necessary.

c. A report on the school’s progress in achieving the goals of its institutional plan.

6. Recruiting. Deletes, effective 24 months after the date of publication of the bill, the statutory provisions relating to solicitor’s permits, but retains among the responsibilities of EAB regulation of the recruiting of students and the issuing of permits to school representatives.

7. Student protection fund. Permits the EAB to pursue any legal action it considers necessary to recover any losses paid from the student protection fund.

8. Student records. Eliminates the authority of WAICU to take possession of the student records of a school that has discontinued its operations, is proposing to discontinue its operations, or is in imminent danger of discontinuing its operations.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
