Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, Department of Natural Resources (DNR) must consider a person who is not a resident of this state but who is in the military and stationed in this state a resident for the purpose of issuing him or her a hunting, fishing, or trapping approval. This includes stamps and permits as well as licenses. Under the fee schedule for fish and game approvals, with limited exceptions, a resident pays less for the same or equivalent approval as does a nonresident.

Under this bill, DNR must consider a person who is currently not a resident of this state but who was a resident of this state at the time he or she entered the military a resident for the purpose of issuing him or her hunting or fishing approval. The bill also treats a former resident who is on furlough or leave in the state like a current resident on furlough or leave for purposes of being able to hunt deer of either sex during the open season for hunting deer with firearms.
