AN ACT to amend 348.25 (4) (intro.) and to create 348.27 (9u) of the statutes; relating to: annual or consecutive month permits for overweight vehicle combinations transporting granular roofing material, providing an exemption from emergency rule procedures, and granting rule-making authority.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, with limited exceptions, no person may operate upon a highway any vehicle or combination of vehicles that exceeds certain statutory weight limits unless the person obtains a permit issued by the Department of Transportation (DOT) or a local authority.

This bill allows DOT to issue annual or consecutive month permits for the transportation of granular roofing material in specially configured vehicle combinations that exceed, by not more than 10,000 pounds, the generally applicable statutory gross weight limitations of 80,000 pounds. The permit may not authorize the operation of any vehicle combination at a maximum gross weight in excess of 90,000 pounds and is not valid on highways designated as part of the national system of interstate and defense highways. If the roads desired to be used by the permit applicant involve highways other than those within the state trunk highway system, the application must be accompanied by a written statement of route approval by the officer in charge of maintenance of the other highway. DOT must establish by rule configuration requirements for vehicle combinations operating under the permit and these requirements may allow vehicle combinations to exceed statutory length requirements.
SENATE BILL 435

Because this bill concerns an exception to the vehicle weight limits specified in ch. 348, stats., the Department of Transportation, as required by law, will prepare a report to be printed as an appendix to this bill.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
