4 relating to: payment of a police officer's or fire fighter's salary after being
5 charged with a misdemeanor or felony and discharged, and the adjournment
6 of a trial or investigation relating to charges brought against a first class city
7 police officer or fire fighter.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, no member of the police force of a first class city (presently only Milwaukee) may be suspended or discharged without pay or benefits until the matter that is the subject of the suspension or discharge is disposed of by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners (first class city board) or the time for an appeal passes without an appeal being made. Also under current law, no first class city police chief or fire chief, or fire fighter, may be deprived of compensation during the time he or she is suspended preceding an investigation or trial, unless the charges are sustained. Currently, no member of a police force or fire department of a second, third, or fourth class city may be deprived of compensation while suspended, pending disposition of the charges.

Also under current law, if the first class city board's decision upholding the discharge or suspension is reversed, the member must be reinstated to his or her former position in the department and is entitled to pay as if he or she was not suspended or discharged. Similar provisions apply to a second, third, or fourth class city police officer or fire fighter whose suspension or removal is reversed.

Under this bill, if a police officer or fire fighter (subordinate) of any class of city is charged with a misdemeanor or felony, the chief must suspend the subordinate if the chief also discharges or seeks to discharge the subordinate, and the subordinate is deprived of compensation pending the disposition of the charges. In second, third, and fourth class cities, a chief may seek the removal of a subordinate, by the board of police and fire commissioners (board), who is charged with a misdemeanor or felony. The bill also changes current law such that a first class city police or fire chief, as well as a fire fighter, who is charged with a misdemeanor or felony may be deprived of compensation during the period after he or she is charged preceding an investigation or trial if the individual is also discharged.

The bill provides that if the chief of a second, third, or fourth class city police or fire department communicates in writing to the board that a subordinate be suspended or removed and if the board takes no action on the communication, the chief's written communication is considered to be charges filed against the subordinate, and a suspension without pay, on the 181st day following the board's receipt of the written communication.

The bill also specifies that, with regard to a first class city, a member of either force who is charged with a misdemeanor or felony and discharged may not receive any compensation following the discharge, and a member of either force who is discharged for any other reason may not receive any compensation after the discharge is upheld by the board or the time for an appeal passes without an appeal being made.

In all cases under the bill, if the charges filed against a suspended subordinate are dismissed, or if the subordinate is found not guilty of the charges, the subordinate is reinstated and entitled to back pay.

Currently, if a first class city board receives a notice of appeal, it must schedule a trial within 5 and 15 days after service of the notice and copy of the complaint. This bill changes the time frame for scheduling a trial to within 90 and 120 days.

Currently, both the accused and the chief of a first class city department have the right to request up to a 15-day adjournment of the trial or investigation of the charges. Once such a request is made, it is granted automatically. Under the bill, the board may grant an adjournment, for cause, to either party.

This bill also repeals a provision that was enacted as part of the state budget, Wisconsin Act 20, that permits a collective bargaining agreement to contain dispute resolution procedures that address suspension, reduction in rank, suspension and reduction in rank, or removal of municipal employees who engage in law enforcement or fire fighting functions.
