Description Excluding from taxable income gains from a Wisconsin business

Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

Under current Wisconsin law, individuals may exclude 60% of net long-term capital gains. Under this bill, an individual; an individual partner or member of a partnership, limited liability company, or limited liability partnership; or an individual shareholder of a tax-option corporation may exclude the capital gain, not to exceed $10 million, realized from the sale of any asset held more than one year if the claimant meets certain requirements. The requirements are: 1) immediately deposit the gain in a segregated account in a financial institution, 2) invest all of the proceeds in a Wisconsin business, as defined in the bill, within 180 days, and 3) notify the Department of Revenue (DOR) on a form prepared by DOR that the claimant will not declare the gain. In addition, the bill specifies that a taxpayer who excludes capital gain under the proposal may not claim an angel investment credit for the same amount of investment. The exemption is first applicable for tax year 2008. The basis of the replacement asset would be calculated by subtracting the excluded gain from the cost of the replacement asset.

There is inherent variability in capital gain income and investment decisions at the individual level. Additionally a number of interactions with other tax incentives may impact the fiscal effect. Some taxpayers with capital gains are otherwise able to plan their taxable income to the point that additional deductions may not be worthwhile. Additionally, federal tax rules will have a non-negligible effect on taxpayers' investment decisions.

The revenue loss has been estimated to be $13.95 million annually under the bill.
