2 responsibility.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Proof of financial responsibility

Under former law, prior to 2009 Wisconsin Act 28 (the biennial budget act), motor vehicles operated in this state were not required to be covered by policies of bodily injury and property damage liability insurance, but owners and operators of motor vehicles involved in accidents were subject to certain financial responsibility requirements. The biennial budget act retained and modified these financial responsibility requirements following a motor vehicle accident while also requiring insurance coverage for motor vehicles operated in this state.

Under current law, if a motor vehicle accident results in injury, death, or property damage of $1,000 or more, the Department of Transportation (DOT) is required to notify the operator and owner of the vehicle involved in the accident that the person must deposit with DOT security for the accident in an amount specified by DOT, which DOT has determined is sufficient to satisfy any judgment for damages resulting from the accident. Unless an exception applies, if a person fails to timely deposit security after this notice, DOT must suspend the person's operating privilege if the person was the vehicle operator and suspend all vehicle registrations of the person if the person was the vehicle owner. One of the exceptions is that the person provides proof of financial responsibility. In addition, if DOT receives a certified copy of a judgment for damages of $500 or more arising out of a motor vehicle accident, DOT must immediately suspend the operating privilege and all registrations of the person against whom the judgment was rendered unless the person can provide proof of financial responsibility. In both situations, proof of financial responsibility includes coverage under a motor vehicle liability insurance policy with the following minimum limits for any single accident:

1. Before January 1, 2010, $25,000 for bodily injury to or death of one person, $50,000 for bodily injury to or death of more than one person, and $10,000 for property damage.
2. From January 1, 2010, to December 31, 2016, $50,000 for bodily injury to or death of one person, $100,000 for bodily injury to or death of more than one person, and $15,000 for property damage.
3. After December 31, 2016, the limits specified in item 2., above, adjusted for inflation and published by DOT.

This substitute amendment restores former law by decreasing the minimum limits required under a policy that is acceptable proof of financial responsibility to the limits applicable before the biennial budget act: $25,000 for bodily injury to or death of one person, $50,000 for bodily injury to or death of more than one person, and $10,000 for property damage.

This substitute amendment does not eliminate the provisions of the biennial budget act that, beginning June 1, 2010, prohibit a person from operating a motor vehicle in this state unless the owner or operator has a motor vehicle liability insurance policy in effect with respect to the motor vehicle. However, the substitute amendment affects these provisions by reducing the required coverage from the minimum limits specified in items 1. to 3., above, to the applicable minimum limits for proof of financial responsibility under former law: $25,000 for bodily injury to or death of one person, $50,000 for bodily injury to or death of more than one person, and $10,000 for property damage.

Uninsured motorist and medical payments coverages

Under former law, all motor vehicle liability insurance policies were required to include uninsured motorist coverage in limits of at least $25,000 per person and $50,000 per accident and medical payments coverage in the amount of at least $1,000 per person. Uninsured motorist coverage provides coverage for persons who are legally entitled to recover damages for bodily injury from owners or operators of motor vehicles that are not insured. Medical payments coverage pays for medical or chiropractic services provided to persons who are injured while using the insured motor vehicle. Starting on November 1, 2009, as a result of provisions in the biennial budget act, the level of uninsured motorist coverage that motor vehicle liability insurance policies, except for those written by town mutuals, must include is increased to $100,000 per person and $300,000 per accident and the level of medical payments coverage that those policies must include is increased to $10,000. This substitute amendment reinstates former law.

Underinsured motorist coverage

Former law did not require motor vehicle liability insurance policies to include underinsured motorist coverage but required insurers to provide written notice of the availability of that coverage to one insured under each policy written after October 1, 1995, that did not include the coverage, as well as to one insured under each motor vehicle liability insurance policy in effect on that date that did not include the coverage. If an insured accepted underinsured motorist coverage after receiving notice of its availability, the policy had to include the coverage in limits of at least $50,000 per person and $100,000 per accident. Underinsured motorist coverage provides coverage for persons who are legally entitled to recover damages for bodily injury from owners or operators of underinsured motor vehicles. “Underinsured motor vehicle” was not defined in the statutes.

The biennial budget act eliminated the requirement to provide notice of the availability of underinsured motorist coverage and required, starting on November 1, 2009, every motor vehicle liability insurance policy, except for those written by town mutuals, to include that coverage in limits of at least $100,000 per person and $300,000 per accident. In addition, current law now defines an underinsured motor vehicle as a motor vehicle that is involved in an accident with an insured and which, at the time of the accident, was covered by a motor vehicle liability insurance policy with limits that are less than the amount needed to fully compensate the insured for his or her damages. The substitute amendment reinstates former law.

Umbrella and excess liability insurance policies

The Wisconsin Administrative Code exempts umbrella and excess liability insurance policies from the requirement under the statutes that a policy covering motor vehicle liability must include uninsured motorist coverage. Nothing in former law, however, exempted an insurer writing umbrella or excess liability insurance policies from the requirement in the statutes to provide notice of the availability of underinsured motorist coverage.

Current law, as a result of provisions in the biennial budget act, requires an insurer, except for a town mutual, that writes umbrella or excess liability policies that cover motor vehicle liability to make a written offer of both uninsured motorist coverage and underinsured motorist coverage whenever application is made for such an umbrella or excess liability policy. Current law also requires an insurer to make a written offer of uninsured motorist coverage at the first renewal after November 1, 2009, of such a policy that does not include that coverage and a written offer of underinsured motorist coverage at the first renewal after November 1, 2009, of such a policy that does not include that coverage. An applicant or insured may reject the coverage, but must do so in writing. If an insurer fails to provide a required written offer of uninsured or underinsured motorist coverage and the umbrella or excess liability policy does not include the coverage, or coverages, for which an offer was not given, a court must, on the request of the insured, reform the policy to include the coverage or coverages with the same limits as the liability coverage limits under the policy. The substitute amendment restores former law by eliminating the requirement that an insurer writing an umbrella or excess liability policy make a written offer of uninsured motorist coverage and underinsured motorist coverage.

Miscellaneous motor vehicle insurance provisions

Current law, as a result of provisions in the biennial budget act, makes a number of formerly permissible provisions prohibited in a motor vehicle liability insurance policy. The substitute amendment restores former law, making the following provisions permissible in a motor vehicle liability insurance policy:

1. Providing that, regardless of the number of policies, persons, or vehicles involved, the limits for any coverage under the policy may not be added to the limits for similar coverage applying to other motor vehicles to determine an overall limit of coverage available for a person in any one accident.

2. Providing that the maximum amount of uninsured or underinsured motorist coverage available for bodily injury or death suffered by a person not using a motor vehicle in an accident (such as a pedestrian) is the highest single limit of uninsured or underinsured motorist coverage for any vehicle with respect to which the person is insured at the time of the accident.

3. Providing that the maximum amount of medical payments coverage available for bodily injury or death suffered by a person not using a motor vehicle in an accident is the highest single limit of medical payments coverage for any vehicle with respect to which the person is insured at the time of the accident.

4. Providing that the limits under the policy for uninsured or underinsured motorist coverage for bodily injury or death resulting from an accident shall be reduced by amounts paid or payable by or on behalf of a person or organization that is legally responsible for the bodily injury or death; amounts paid or payable under any worker's compensation law; or amounts paid or payable under any disability benefits laws.
