Description Membership of boards of commissioners established for public inland lake protection and rehabilitation districts

Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

CURRENT LAW

Management of the affairs of an inland lake protection and rehabilitation district (or lake district) is delegated to a board of commissioners. The board must have at least 5 members consisting of the following: (a) one person appointed by the county board who is a member of the county land conservation committee; (b) one member of the governing board of the municipality with the largest portion of the district's value, who, if possible, should own property within the district; and (c) three electors or owners of property within the district, elected by secret ballot for staggered 3-year terms, at least one of which shall reside in the district.

PROPOSED LAW

The qualifications for the second person noted above would be changed. Under the bill, the person appointed to the lake district board by the municipal board would have to be a resident of the lake district but need not be a member of the municipal board.

FISCAL EFFECT

Most of the laws concerning lake districts are administered by the Department of Natural Resources and other state agencies. For the Department of Revenue (DOR), the main administrative role regarding lake districts is the annual determination of the equalized value of these districts. Since the bill makes no effect on DOR's administrative duties regarding lake districts, there are no costs for the DOR.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications
