Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, no person may, while on the land of another, discharge a firearm within 100 yards of any building devoted to human occupancy situated on the land without the express permission of the owner or occupant of the building. Anyone who does so is guilty of a Class A misdemeanor and may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than nine months or both.

Under this bill, no person may, while on the land of another or in waters adjacent to the land of another, discharge a firearm within 100 yards of any building devoted to human occupancy situated on the land without the express permission of the owner or occupant of the building.

Because this bill creates a new crime or revises a penalty for an existing crime, the Joint Review Committee on Criminal Penalties may be requested to prepare a report concerning the proposed penalty and the costs or savings that are likely to result if the bill is enacted.
