Per our conversation - This is the language we would like for a joint resolution. I am heading out shortly but if you have any questions I will be online and checking email this evening. Also, once you have given it an LRB # if you could send that to me it would be great - that way I can get started on a co-sponsorship memo.

Thanks!

Whereas, because of the faith of many of our founding fathers, public prayer and national days of prayer have a long-standing and significant history in American tradition; and

Whereas, the National Day of Prayer is an annual observance held on the first Thursday of May, inviting people of all faiths to pray for the nation; and

Whereas, the National Day of Prayer is a vital part of our heritage; and

Whereas, since the first call to prayer in 1775, when the Continental Congress asked the colonies to pray for wisdom in forming a nation, the call to prayer has continued through our history, and

Whereas, each year, the president signs a proclamation, encouraging all Americans to pray on this day; and

Whereas, last year, all 50 state governors plus the governors of several U.S. territories signed similar proclamations; and

Whereas, a day of prayer enables us to recall and to teach the way in which our founding fathers sought the wisdom of God when faced with critical decisions; and

Whereas, this is a day that transcends differences, bringing together citizens from all backgrounds; and

Whereas, this day stands as a call to us to humbly come before God, seeking His guidance for our leaders and His grace upon us as a people; and

Whereas, on April 15, 2010, the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Wisconsin struck down the statute establishing the National Day of Prayer; now therefore be it

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, that the legislature hereby proclaims May 6, 2010 as Wisconsin Day of Prayer.
