The possession of green skins of fur-bearing animals, the tagging of traps, and the sale, purchase, bartering, and trade of wild animals and their carcasses

Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

Bill Summary:

This bill will allow hunters and trappers to possess the green skin of a lawfully killed fur-bearing animal that carries a registration tag issued by the Department or for which there is an open season without any bag or possession limits. This bill also allows a landowner or occupant to possesses the greenskin of certain fur-bearing animals that are trapped on that land year round.

This bill expands the authority of the public to sell the carcass or parts of carcasses of certain lawfully taken wild animals during the closed season for those animals. This includes the skull and claws of a squirrel, the carcass of a fur-bearing animal that has a valid registration tag attached by DNR or a wild animal, or its carcass, for which there is an open season and for which there is no bag or possession limit. The bill further allows the sale, purchase, barter, and trade of liquid scent made from the carcass of a lawfully taken wild animal, except from a bear's gallbladder. This bill also allows the sale, purchase, barter, and trade of rabbits, or their parts, if they are lawfully taken by landowners on their own property or as part of DNR's program for eliminating nuisance wildlife.

Under current law, each trap used by a licensed trapper must have a metal tag that has the name and address of the owner of the trap. The bill changes this requirement so that the name and address must be that of the operator of the trap. Under this bill, the operator of a trap may use, in lieu of the name and address, a customer identification number issued by DNR to the operator under DNR's automated system for issuing trapping licenses and other fishing and hunting approvals.

These provisions allow hunters and trappers increased opportunity to possess and sell lawful take game.

Fiscal Estimate:

It is estimated this bill will not create a cost to the Department, or to hunters or trappers.
