Description The distribution of the first dollar property tax credit

Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

Under current law, the lottery and gaming credit (paid on the 4th Monday in March) and the school levies credit (paid on the 4th Monday in July) due to a municipality are normally paid to the county treasurer, who must settle for the credit with the appropriate taxation jurisdictions for their share of these credit payments. A municipality may choose to have these credits paid directly to them if (a) the municipality collects property taxes in three or more installments, or (b) the total payments under the two credits are $3 million or more. If the municipality receives the credits, the municipal treasurer must settle with the county treasurer, who in turn settles with the remaining taxation jurisdictions for their share of the credit payments.

Under current law, the first dollar credit (paid on the 4th Monday in July) is paid to the municipality. The municipal treasurer must settle for this credit with the county treasurer no later than August 15. The county treasurer is then responsible for settling for the credit with the appropriate taxation jurisdictions for their share of the credit no later than August 20.

Under the bill, the first dollar credit would be paid to the county treasurer, who would be responsible for settling for the credit with the appropriate taxation jurisdictions for their share of the credit. A municipality could choose to continue to receive the payment directly if (a) the municipality collects property taxes in three or more installments, or (b) the total payment under all three credits are $3 million or more.

Under current law, municipalities can earn interest for the days between when they receive the first dollar credit (4th Monday in July) and when they are required to settle with the county (August 15). Under the bill, these interest earnings may shift to the county. Based on an annual interest rate of 1.03% (equal to the rate paid on deposits in the state's Local Government Investment Pool for January 2009), and assuming that every municipality settles with the county on August 15, the maximum shift in interest earnings would be about $40,200 ($$75,000,000 \times 1.03\% \times 19/365$). Since many municipalities that can choose to have the first dollar credit paid directly to them will choose this option, the actual shift in interest earnings will be lower than the amount shown above.

The Department of Revenue would incur one-time costs to change its computer and accounting systems regarding to whom the first dollar credit should be paid. These costs can be absorbed.
