Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, no person may for compensation provide care and supervision for four or more children under seven years of age for less than 24 hours a day unless that person obtains a license to operate a child care center from the Department of Children and Families. Certain persons, however, including public, parochial, or tribal schools, are exempt from this requirement. This substitute amendment requires a public school or an unaccredited private school that provides such care and supervision for children under three years of age to obtain a license to operate a child care center.
