Stephen-

Can we please have a SJR drafted (and jacketed)?

Relating to: commending Madison Area Technical College on its 100th Anniversary

Whereas, the Madison Industrial School first began offering courses in 1912 to 63 students ages 14-16 in a fire station just east of the State Capitol, and

Whereas, by 1932, the Madison School of Vocational Education is serving nearly 8,000 students from five area school districts, upgrading their skills to find employment in the midst of the Great Depression, and

Whereas, during World War II, the School offered courses around the clock to train women and men to meet the wartime production needs of the industry, and

Whereas, in 1966, the Madison Vocational, Technical, and Adult Schools begin to offer college transfer courses to meet the needs of veterans returning from the Vietnam War, and

Whereas, in the 1980s, Madison area Technical College begins to offer on-the-job training to businesses that are beginning to integrate computers into the workplace and produce new graduates trained to operate and service new information technology, and

Whereas, as a result of the Great Recession, the College experienced record enrollment growth as individuals of all ages came to upgrade skills, obtain new training and prepare themselves for new careers, and

Whereas, Madison Area Technical College now serves approximately 40,000 students annually, and

Whereas, Madison Area Technical College has worked to increase educational opportunities for all students by offering courses on-line, creating accelerated degree programs for working students, and integrating adult basic education with skills training all in an effort to meet the needs of businesses and communities in South-central Wisconsin, and

Whereas, Madison Area Technical College will continue its historic mission of training and educating individuals to promote broad economic development and their own self-sufficiency; now therefore be it

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, that the legislature commends the work and efforts of Madison Area Technical College and joins it in celebrating a century of success.

Thanks,

Sanchit Mulmuley
