State of Wisconsin
 Department of Public Instruction

October, 2011

The Honorable, The Legislature:

In accordance with s. 15.04(1)(d), Wis. Stats., the Department of Public Instruction submits its 2009–11 Biennial Report. This document gives a review of the departmental highlights during the past two years and outlines my goals for 2011–13 biennium.

The agency operations section shows that the department continued to serve the state well over the course of the 2009–11 biennium. This portion of the report focuses on the accomplishments of the department’s five divisions and each of the teams within those divisions. The department’s efforts over this two-year period have done much to promote public education and public libraries in Wisconsin.

As State Superintendent, it is my responsibility to address and meet the leadership, advocacy, and accountability challenges for Wisconsin’s public schools and libraries. Therefore, as we move through the 2011–13 biennium, I will continue working to ensure that every child in Wisconsin will graduate with the skills and knowledge they will need to be successful as they pursue further education or enter the workforce.

Wisconsin public schools continue to ear nation–leading graduation rates, college entrance exam scores, and a growing number of students taking rigorous college–level courses. On this foundation, we must move forward fasted against increased international competition to boost family–supporting job growth across Wisconsin. Public education builds our workforce and middle class prosperity.

Our education system works for most kids, but not all kids. some learn differently or need support, while others need new challenges. Our mission is to prepare them all to succeed in further education and careers. To meet the needs of today’s students, we must customize the student experience, adopting technologies and instruction in ways that meaningfully engage the digital generation.

To advance education for all students, I remain focused around four simple, but powerful areas:

- Standards and Instruction: What and how should kids learn?
- Assessments and Data Systems: How do we know if they learned it?
- Accountability for Systems and Individuals: How do we support improvement?
- School Finance: How should we pay for schools?

In these and other areas, we have worked with parents, students, educators, and leaders across the state to transform our education system so that every child is a graduate ready for college and careers. To ensure a lasting impact, we need to act swiftly to implement cutting–edge strategies to drive improvements in student achievement.

I hope you find this report useful and informative. Please contact my office for more specific information on any K–12 issues of importance to you.

Regards,
TONY EVERS, PHD
 State Superintendent
