1 AN ACT to create 939.18 of the statutes; relating to: granting immunity from
2 certain criminal prosecutions for a person who seeks aid for another person.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill provides immunity from certain criminal prosecutions for a person (aider) who summons aid for another person the aider believes is suffering an overdose of, or other adverse reaction to, alcohol or a controlled substance. Under the bill, if an aider brings another person to an emergency room or other health care facility or summons police or emergency medical assistance because the aider believes the other person is suffering an overdose or other adverse reaction, the aider generally has the right to remain anonymous and may leave the scene at any time.

Under the bill, the aider may not be prosecuted for using or possessing alcohol or a controlled substance under the circumstances leading to other person's adverse reaction. Under the bill, the aider may be required to identify himself or herself and may not be allowed to leave if a law enforcement officer, emergency medical technician, or other health care provider believes aider poses an imminent risk of harm or himself or herself or to another person.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:
