2 program for school districts to employ special education job development
3 specialists and making an appropriation.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill requires the Department of Public Instruction (DPI) to create a pilot program in the 2016–17 school year to pay for the employment of special education job development specialists in a school district, consortia of school districts, or cooperative educational service agency (“school district”). The special education job development specialists will be responsible for identifying and developing paid jobs for children with disabilities in the school district who have transition planning and transition services in place. DPI must give preference in awarding funding to a school district that has demonstrated below–average postsecondary employment outcomes for children with disabilities in the preceding five school years.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
