BILL

1 law, a civil law, or a municipal ordinance and who has not been charged with
2 certain violent offenses or has not previously been convicted of a crime or
3 adjudicated delinquent is subject to juvenile court jurisdiction.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, a person 17 years of age or older who is alleged to have violated a criminal law is subject to the procedures specified in the Criminal Procedure Code and, on conviction, is subject to sentencing under the Criminal Code, which may include a sentence of imprisonment in the Wisconsin state prisons. Currently, subject to certain exceptions, a person under 17 years of age who is alleged to have violated a criminal law is subject to the procedures specified in the Juvenile Justice Code and, on being adjudicated delinquent, is subject to an array of dispositions under that code including placement in a juvenile correctional facility. This bill raises from 17 to 18 the age at which a person who is alleged to have violated a criminal law is subject to the procedures specified in the Criminal Procedure Code and, on conviction, to sentencing under the Criminal Code, if the person has not been charged with committing certain violent offenses and has not previously been convicted of a crime or adjudicated delinquent. The bill, however, does not affect the age at which a person who has been charged with committing certain violent offenses or who has previously been convicted of a crime or adjudicated delinquent is subject to those procedures and that sentencing.

Similarly, under current law, a person 17 years of age or older who is alleged to have violated a civil law or municipal ordinance is subject to the jurisdiction and procedures of the circuit court or, if applicable, the municipal court, while a person under 17 years of age who is alleged to have violated a civil law or municipal ordinance, subject to certain exceptions, is subject to the jurisdiction and procedures of the court assigned to exercise jurisdiction under the Juvenile Justice Code. This bill raises from 17 to 18 the age at which a person who is alleged to have violated a civil law or municipal ordinance is subject to the jurisdiction and procedures of the circuit court or, if applicable, the municipal court, if the person has not previously been convicted of a crime or adjudicated delinquent. The bill, however, does not affect the age at which a person who has previously been convicted of a crime or adjudicated delinquent is subject to that jurisdiction and those procedures.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Lane,
The exception is actually for someone previously adjudicated delinquent or previously convicted of a crime. It sounds like you want all 17 yr olds treated as children/minors/juveniles prior to charging so I will take those both out.

Hi Lane –

This draft does address treatment of a 17-yr-old prior to being charged, but it currently has an exception for someone previously adjudicated delinquent. So that will need to be removed. I'll go ahead and take that out and send it back.

Lis,

Thank you for the quick turn around on the draft. Does this draft address how a 17 year old should be treated on arrest?

I believe I had incorrectly instructed that we would like only those who had NOT been previously adjudicated delinquent to be treated as a juvenile between arrest and charging. However, we would like all 17 year olds to be treated like juveniles until charging, including recording of interrogation, etc. I am not sure if that is possible to draft or if it is a policy adopted by law enforcement.

Thank you, let me know your thoughts!

Lane
