Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

JUSTICE

money

Under current law, DOJ transfers a portion of monies it receives from a penalty surcharge to an appropriation account that funds drug enforcement tactical and strategic intelligence units. Under current law, any unencumbered monies on June 30 of each year in the drug enforcement intelligence units appropriation account transfers to the penalty surcharge appropriation account.

DOJ also receives monies from DOA that DOA receives from a justice information surcharge to fund an interoperable communications system and to make grants to counties that provide alternatives to prosecution and incarceration.

This bill transfers the unencumbered balance on June 30, 2015, in the appropriation accounts for the drug enforcement intelligent units, the interoperable communications system, and the alternatives to prosecution and incarceration grants to the DOA justice information surcharge appropriation account.

Andy,

Do you want this to include s. 20.505 (1)(id) 1., which transfers monies from the DOA account in 20.505 (1) (id) to the DOA account under s. 20.505 (1) (h)? It's the only appropriation that receives JIF money that is also a DOA appropriation.

Hi Peggy,

Could you expand this draft to include all of the appropriations that receive funding from JIF (20.505(1)(id))?

Thanks,

Andy

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

JUSTICE

Under current law, DOA transfers moneys it receives from a justice information fee (JIF) surcharge from its JIF appropriation account to appropriation accounts for DOA, DOJ, DOC, and the circuit courts to fund an interoperable communications system and an automated justice information system and justice information sharing program, to pay for victim notification services and court interpreter fees, and to provide grants for child advocacy centers, increased numbers of uniformed law enforcement officers, and counties that provide alternatives to prosecution and incarceration.

Under the bill, the unencumbered balances on June 30, 2015, and on June 30 of each year thereafter in the appropriation accounts that receive a transfer from the JIF appropriation account are transferred back to the JIF appropriation account.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
