Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau
This bill is explained in the NOTES provided by the Joint Legislative Council in the bill.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

JOINT LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL PREFATORY NOTE: This bill was prepared for the Joint Legislative Council's Study Committee on the Review of Criminal Penalties.
Background

Crime is conduct that is prohibited by law and punishable by a fine or a term of imprisonment or both. Each criminal offense is either a felony or a misdemeanor. A crime punishable by imprisonment for more than one year is a felony. A crime that is punishable by imprisonment for less than one year is a misdemeanor. If a statute specifies a maximum term of imprisonment of one year, the crime is a misdemeanor if the statute specifies that a one-year sentence should be served in a county jail; otherwise, the crime is a felony. Conduct punishable only by a forfeiture is not a crime.

Classification of Unclassified Misdemeanors

Classified criminal offenses are offenses for which the penalty is established by reference to a particular “class” that corresponds to a set penalty range. Under current law, misdemeanors in chs. 939 to 951 of the statutes (the Criminal Code) are classified as follows:

- Class A Misdemeanor, which is punishable by a fine not to exceed $10,000, imprisonment not to exceed 9 months, or both.
- Class B Misdemeanor, which is punishable by a fine not to exceed $1,000, imprisonment not to exceed 90 days, or both.
- Class C Misdemeanor, which is punishable by a fine not to exceed $500, imprisonment not to exceed 30 days, or both.

Currently, misdemeanors in portions of the Wisconsin Statutes other than the Criminal Code are not classified. Instead, the penalties for these “unclassified” misdemeanors are established separately for each offense.

This bill classifies the majority of unclassified misdemeanors by placing each misdemeanor to be classified within one of the three classes of misdemeanors described above. The class into which this bill places each unclassified misdemeanor is generally determined by the following principles:

- If the current penalty for an unclassified misdemeanor is exactly the same as the penalty prescribed for a particular misdemeanor class, the misdemeanor is placed into that class.
- If the current penalty for an unclassified misdemeanor is not exactly the same as the penalty prescribed for a particular misdemeanor class, the misdemeanor is classified as follows:
  - For offenses in which the maximum term of imprisonment corresponds exactly to the term of imprisonment prescribed for an existing class, the offense is placed within that class.
  - For offenses that are currently penalized with a maximum term of imprisonment that lies between two existing classes or is greater than nine months, the offense is placed in the lower class or in Class A, respectively.
- If the current penalty for an offense does not include a term of imprisonment, the misdemeanor is not classified.

Certain misdemeanors classified by this bill are not placed in classes according to the principles described above because after initially applying these principles to each unclassified misdemeanor, the Study Committee reviewed the preliminary class assignments and adjusted them as it deemed necessary. This bill does not change the penalties for, or classify, crimes concerning operating while intoxicated, drug offenses, crimes related to elections and public officials, crimes related to public assistance under ch. 49, Stats., and various other misdemeanor offenses the Study Committee directed not to be treated.

Misdemeanors Changed to Civil Forfeitures

This bill changes the penalty for certain misdemeanor offenses to a civil forfeiture. Most of the misdemeanor offenses changed, under the bill, to civil forfeitures are misdemeanors that currently carry a penalty of a fine only, not a term of imprisonment.

Obsolete Misdemeanors Repealed
This bill repeals certain offenses, determined by the Study Committee to be obsolete or no longer relevant, relating to occupational iron ore taxes, milk contractors, weather modification, the regulation of trading stamps, unlawful presence in school buildings, telegraphs and telegrams, taxes on controlled substances, operation of corn shredders and threshing machines, using or displaying standard time by a business, physical endurance contests, and the Citizens Utility Board.

Civil Forfeiture Procedures
Under current law, a law enforcement officer may issue a citation for a forfeiture violation if a statute specifically provides that a citation may be issued for violations of that offense. A citation is generally sufficient to serve as the initial pleading for the action and gives a court jurisdiction over the person. When authority for a law enforcement officer to issue a citation for a forfeiture offense violation is not provided by statute, the offense may be prosecuted by a district attorney and initiated through the filing of a complaint. Also under current law, specific discovery rules apply to certain types of civil forfeiture offenses, such as traffic offenses. Absent discovery rules specific to the offense, discovery in civil forfeiture proceedings is governed by the civil procedure rules of discovery.

This bill expands the number of forfeiture violations for which a law enforcement officer may issue a citation by applying the citation procedure that currently may only be used for certain limited violations to any civil forfeiture for which a different procedure is not specifically prescribed. This bill also provides that the criminal procedure rules of discovery apply to civil forfeiture actions initiated by this citation procedure.

SECTION 1. 16.009 (5) (b) of the statutes is amended to read:

> 16.009 (5) (b) Any person who violates par. (a) may be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than 6 months or both is guilty of a Class B misdemeanor.

SECTION 2. 16.845 (1) of the statutes is amended to read:

> 16.845 (1) RULE; PENALTY. Except as elsewhere expressly prohibited, the managing authority of any facility owned by the state or by the University of Wisconsin Hospitals and Clinics Authority or leased from the state by the Fox River Navigational System Authority may permit its use for free discussion of public questions, or for civic, social, recreational or athletic activities. No such use shall be permitted if it would unduly burden the managing authority or interfere with the prime use of such facility. The applicant for use shall be liable to the state, to the Fox River Navigational System Authority, or to the University of Wisconsin Hospitals and Clinics Authority for any injury done to its property, for any expense arising out of any such use and for such sum as the managing authority may charge for such use. All such sums payable to the state shall be paid into the general fund and credited to the appropriation account for the operation of the facility used. The managing authority may permit such use notwithstanding the fact that a reasonable admission fee may be charged to the public.
