Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Introduction
This bill recodifies the child abuse and neglect reporting law for clarity and organization. The bill also makes various changes with respect to the categories of mandatory reporters of suspected abuse and neglect of children, eliminates an exception to the child abuse reporting requirement for certain health care providers when the abuse consists of sexual intercourse or contact involving a child, and amends the definitions of “abuse” and “neglect” for purposes of the child abuse and neglect reporting requirement.

Persons Mandated to Report; Training
Current law requires certain professionals to report suspected abuse and neglect of children. A person who is mandated to report must do so if he or she has reasonable cause to suspect that a child seen by the person in the course of professional duties has been abused or neglected or has reason to believe that a child seen by the person in the course of professional duties has been threatened with abuse or neglect and that abuse or neglect of the child will occur. Mandated reporters are subject to criminal penalties if they fail to report.

Under current law, all school employees are required to report suspected child abuse or neglect. In addition to generally requiring all school employees to report suspected abuse or neglect, current law also specifies that school teachers, school administrators, and school counselors are mandated reporters.

The bill makes the following changes to the categories of mandated reporters:
1. Adds probation agents and parole agents to the list of professionals who are mandated to report suspected abuse or neglect.
2. With respect to school personnel, amends the current requirement that all school employees report suspected abuse or neglect to apply the reporting requirement to school employees, volunteers, and contractors who work directly with children for at least 40 hours in a school year.
3. Exempts from the obligation to report: a) children; and b) students who have not yet graduated from high school.
4. Deletes the provisions referring specifically to school teachers, administrators, and counselors because these professionals are covered under the provision requiring certain school employees, volunteers, and contractors to report.
5. Adds to the list of persons required to report suspected child abuse or neglect employees, volunteers, and contractors of an institution of higher education, other than children, who have regular, ongoing contact with children, other than matriculated students, in a professional or primary setting.

Under current law, each school board must require every employee of the school district governed by the school board to receive training, provided by the Department of Public Instruction, in identifying children who have been abused or neglected and the laws and procedures related to mandated reporters. This bill expands this training requirement to apply to all school employees, contractors, or volunteers, other than children or students who have not yet graduated from high school, who work directly with children at least 40 hours in a school year and who are affiliated with the school district governed by the school board. The bill also requires that this training include training in identifying children who are victims of human trafficking.

Reporting of sexual intercourse or contact; elimination of health care provider exception

Under current law, for the purpose of allowing children to obtain confidential health care services, certain persons are exempted from the mandate to report suspected or threatened abuse consisting of sexual intercourse or sexual contact involving a child. This exemption applies to a health care provider who provides any health care service to a child and a person who obtains information about a child who is receiving or has received health care services from a health care provider.

However, current law requires these persons to report as usual if they have reason to suspect: 1) that the sexual intercourse or sexual contact occurred or is likely to occur with a caregiver; 2) that the child suffered or suffers from a mental illness or mental deficiency that rendered or renders the child temporarily or permanently incapable of understanding or evaluating the consequences of his or her actions; 3) that the child, because of his or her age or immaturity, was or is incapable of understanding the nature or consequences of sexual intercourse or sexual contact; 4) that the child was unconscious at the time of the act or for any other reason was physically unable to communicate unwillingness to engage in sexual intercourse or sexual contact; 5) that another participant in the sexual contact or sexual intercourse was or is exploiting the child; or 6) if the person has any reasonable doubt as to the voluntariness of the child's participation in the sexual contact or sexual intercourse.

This bill eliminates this exemption from the mandate to report suspected or threatened abuse.

Definitions of “Physical Injury” and “Neglect”

In the Children’s Code, “abuse” is defined to mean one of several specified activities, including “physical injury inflicted on a child by other than accidental means.” The term “physical injury” is further defined to mean lacerations, fractured bones, burns, internal injuries, severe or frequent bruising, or great bodily harm, as defined in the Criminal Code.

For purposes of mandated reporting of child abuse, the bill removes the words “severe or frequent” from the phrase “severe or frequent bruising” within the definition of “physical injury.” For purposes of investigating a report of child abuse, however, the bill does not remove those words from that phrase.

In the Children’s Code, “neglect” is defined to mean the failure, refusal, or inability on the part of a caregiver, for reasons other than poverty, to provide necessary care, food, clothing, medical or dental care, or shelter so as to seriously endanger the physical health of a child.

For purposes of mandated reporting of child neglect, the bill removes the phrase “for reasons other than poverty” from the definition of “neglect.” For purposes of investigating a report of child neglect, however, the bill does not remove that phrase from that definition.

48.236 (4) (a) Inspect any reports and records relating to the child who is the subject of the proceeding, the child’s family, and any other person residing in the same home as the child that are relevant to the subject matter of the proceeding, including records discoverable under s. 48.293, examination reports under s. 48.295 (2), law enforcement reports and records under ss. 48.396 (1) and 938.396 (1) (a), court records under ss. 48.396 (2) (a) and 938.396 (2), social welfare agency records under ss. 48.78 (2) (a) and 938.78 (2) (a), abuse and neglect reports and records under s. 48.981 (7) (a) 11r. (7d) (Lr), and pupil records under s. 118.125 (2) (L). The order shall also require the custodian of any report or record specified in this paragraph to permit the court-appointed special advocate to inspect the report or record on presentation by the court-appointed special advocate of a copy of the order. A court-appointed special advocate that obtains access to a report or record described in this paragraph shall keep the information contained in the report or record confidential and may disclose that information only to the court. If a court-appointed special advocate discloses any information to the court under this paragraph, the court-appointed special advocate shall also disclose that information to all parties to the proceeding. If a court-appointed special advocate discloses information in violation of the confidentiality requirement specified in this paragraph, the court-appointed special advocate is liable to any person damaged as a result of that disclosure for such damages as may be proved and, notwithstanding s. 814.04 (1), for such costs and reasonable actual attorney fees as may be incurred by the person damaged.

SECTION 2. 48.24 (5) of the statutes is amended to read:

48.24 (5) The intake worker shall request that a petition be filed, enter into an informal disposition, or close the case within 60 days after receipt of referral information. If the referral information is a report received by a county department or, in a county having a population of 500,000 or more, the department or a licensed child welfare agency under contract with the department under s. 48.981 (3) (a) 1r, 2r, or 2d, or (bg), or (bp) that 60-day period shall begin on the day on which the report is received by the county department, department, or licensed child welfare agency. If the case is closed or an informal disposition is entered into, the district attorney, corporation counsel, or other official under s. 48.09 shall receive written notice of that action. If a law enforcement officer has made a recommendation concerning the child, or the unborn child and the expectant mother of the unborn child, the intake worker shall forward this recommendation to the district attorney, corporation counsel, or other official under s. 48.09. If a petition is filed, the petition may include information received more than 60 days before filing the petition to establish a condition or pattern which, together with information received within the 60-day period, provides a basis for conferring jurisdiction on the court. The court shall grant appropriate relief as provided in s. 48.315 (3) with respect to any petition that is not referred or filed within the time periods specified in this subsection. Failure to object to the fact that a petition is not requested within the time period specified in this subsection waives any challenge to the court’s competency to act on the petition.
