Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Introduction

This bill expands the family and medical leave law to permit an employee covered under that law to take family leave to care for a grandparent, grandchild, or sibling, lowers the threshold number of employees above which an employer must permit an employee to take family or medical leave, and establishes a family and medical leave insurance program under which certain covered individuals may receive benefits while taking family or medical leave.

Family and medical leave expansion

Under current law, an employer, including the state, that employs at least 50 individuals on a permanent basis in this state must permit an employee who has been employed by the employer for more than 52 consecutive weeks and who has worked for the employer for at least 1,000 hours during the preceding 52 weeks to take up to eight weeks of family leave in a 12-month period for the birth or adoptive placement of a child or to care for a child, spouse, parent, or domestic partner of the employee or a parent of the spouse of the employee who has a serious health condition; and up to two weeks of medical leave in a 12-month period when the employee has a serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the employee’s employment duties.

This bill requires an employer, including the state, that employs at least 25 employees on a permanent basis in this state to permit an employee to take family or medical leave as provided under current law. The bill also permits an employee to take family leave as provided under current law to care for a grandparent, grandchild, or sibling of the employee who has a serious health condition. In addition, the bill requires an employer to permit an employee to take family leave because of any qualifying exigency, as determined by the Department of Workforce Development (DWD) by rule, arising out of the fact that the spouse, child, domestic partner, parent, grandparent, grandchild, or sibling of the employee is on deployment with the U.S. armed forces to a foreign country (covered active duty) or has been notified of an impending call or order to covered active duty.

Family and medical leave insurance program

The bill creates a family and medical leave insurance program, to be administered by DWD, under which a covered individual who is on family or medical leave is eligible, beginning on January 1, 2020, to receive up to 12 weeks of family or medical leave insurance benefits as specified in the bill from the family and medical leave insurance trust fund created under the bill (trust fund). For purposes of the bill:

1. A “covered individual” is an individual who worked for an employer for at least 680 hours in the calendar year prior to the year in which the covered individual claims family or medical leave insurance benefits (application year) or a self-employed individual who elects coverage under the program, regardless of whether the individual is employed or unemployed at the time the individual files an application for family or medical leave insurance benefits.

2. “Family leave” means leave from employment, self-employment, or availability for employment for the birth or adoptive placement of a new child or to care for a child, spouse, domestic partner, parent, grandparent, grandchild, or sibling who has a serious health condition.

3. “Medical leave” means leave from employment when a covered individual has a serious health condition that makes the individual unable to perform his or her employment duties, leave from self-employment when a covered individual has a serious health condition that makes the individual unable to perform the duties of his or her self-employment, or leave from availability for employment when a covered individual has a serious health condition that makes the individual unable to perform the duties of any suitable employment.

Under the bill, the amount of family or medical leave insurance benefits for a week for which those benefits are payable is as follows:

1. For a covered individual who earned less than 30 percent of the state annual median wage in the calendar year before the individual’s application year, 95 percent of that individual’s average weekly earnings.

2. For a covered individual who earned at least 30 percent, but less than 50 percent, of the state annual median wage in the calendar year before the individual’s application year, 90 percent of that individual’s average weekly earnings.

3. For a covered individual who earned at least 50 percent, but less than 80 percent, of the state annual median wage in the calendar year before the individual’s application year, 85 percent of that individual’s average weekly earnings.

4. For a covered individual who earned at least 80 percent of the state annual median wage in the calendar year before the individual’s application year, 66 percent of that individual’s average weekly earnings.

In addition, the bill provides that family or medical leave insurance benefits are payable beginning on the sixth day of family or medical leave, except that if a covered individual uses ten or more days of family or medical leave insurance benefits in an application year, those benefits are also payable with respect to the first five days of family or medical leave. The bill also provides that no family or medical leave insurance benefits are payable for any period of family or medical leave in which a covered individual is substituting paid leave of any other type provided by his or her employer or in which a covered individual is receiving unemployment benefits or worker’s compensation benefits. Finally, with respect to family or medical leave insurance benefits, the bill provides that those benefits are exempt from state income taxation.

Beginning on January 1, 2019, the bill requires each individual employed in this state, including an individual employed by the state, and each self-employed individual who elects coverage under the family and medical leave insurance program to contribute to the trust fund a percentage of his or her wages from employment or income from self-employment determined by DWD in consultation with the commissioner of insurance that is sufficient to finance the payments of benefits under the program and the administration of the program. The bill requires DWD to collect those contributions in the same manner as DWD collects contributions to the unemployment reserve fund under current law.
ASSEMBLY BILL 516

Finally, the bill:

1. Permits a covered individual whose claim for family or medical leave insurance benefits is denied by DWD to request a hearing on the denial and requires DWD to process the request for hearing in the same manner that requests for hearings on unemployment insurance claims are processed under current law.

2. Permits DWD to seek repayment of family or medical leave insurance benefits that are paid erroneously or as a result of willful misrepresentation in the same manner that DWD recovers erroneous payments of unemployment insurance benefits under current law or to waive recovery of an erroneous payment of those benefits if the erroneous payment was not the fault of the person who received it and if requiring repayment would be contrary to equity and good conscience.

3. Provides that if an individual willfully makes a false statement or representation, or willfully fails to disclose a material fact, to obtain family or medical leave insurance benefits, the individual is disqualified from receiving those benefits for one year after the date of the disqualification.

(b) Any sole proprietor, partner of a partnership, member of a limited liability company, or other self-employed individual engaged in a vocation, profession, or business in this state on a substantially full-time basis may elect to be covered under this section by filing a written notice of election with the department in a form and manner prescribed by the department by rule. information as may be necessary for the department to determine the claimant’s eligibility for those benefits and the amount and duration of those benefits, and the employer shall provide that information to the department within such time and in such manner as the department may prescribe by rule. If the department determines that a claimant is eligible to receive family or medical leave insurance benefits, the department shall provide those benefits to the claimant as provided in subs. (3) to (5).

(3) AMOUNT OF BENEFITS. (a) Subject to par. (b), the amount of family or medical leave insurance benefits for a week of leave for which those benefits are payable is as follows:

1. For a covered individual who earned less than 30 percent of the state annual median wage in the calendar year before the individual’s application year, 95 percent of that individual’s average weekly earnings.

2. For a covered individual who earned at least 30 percent, but less than 50 percent, of the state annual median wage in the calendar year before the individual’s application year, 90 percent of that individual’s average weekly earnings.
3. For a covered individual who earned at least 50 percent, but less than 80 percent, of the state annual median wage in the calendar year before the individual’s application year, 85 percent of that individual’s average weekly earnings.

(b) The amount of family or medical leave insurance benefits for a fractional week of leave for which those benefits are payable is one-seventh of the covered individual’s weekly benefit amount under par. (a) multiplied by the number of days of leave taken that week. Family or medical leave insurance benefits are not payable for a period of leave of less than one day in duration.

(4) DURATION OF BENEFITS. (a) The maximum number of weeks for which family or medical leave insurance benefits are payable in an application year is 12 weeks. A covered individual may take family or medical leave continuously or, at the option of the covered individual, intermittently or on a reduced leave schedule, except that a covered individual may not take family or medical leave intermittently or on a reduced leave schedule for more than 24 consecutive weeks unless the leave is for a reason specified in sub. (1) (L) or s. 103.10 (3) (b) 3. and the covered individual shows that the leave is medically necessary. If a covered individual who is employed intends to take family or medical leave intermittently or on a reduced leave schedule, the covered individual shall make a reasonable effort to schedule that leave so as not to unduly disrupt the operations of his or her employer and shall provide the employer with prior notice of that leave in a reasonable and practicable manner.

(b) 1. Except as provided in subd. 2., no family or medical leave insurance benefits are payable for the first 5 calendar days in an application year for which a or medical leave insurance benefits are payable beginning on the 6th calendar day in an application year for which a covered individual is eligible for those benefits.

The first payment of family or medical leave insurance benefits shall be made no later than 2 weeks after a covered individual files a claim for those benefits and subsequent payments shall be made no less often than semimonthly.

2. If a covered individual uses 10 or more days of family or medical leave insurance benefits in an application year, those benefits shall also be payable with respect to the covered individual’s waiting period. An employer may not require a covered individual to use paid or unpaid leave of any other type provided by the employer during the covered individual’s waiting period.

(5) Coordination of Benefits. (a) If family or medical leave for which benefits are payable under this section also qualifies as family or medical leave under s.

those benefits are payable shall run concurrently with the family or medical leave under s. 103.10 (3) (b) or (4) (a) or 29 USC 2612 (a) (1).

(b) No collective bargaining agreement or employer policy may diminish or abridge an employee’s rights under this section. Any agreement purporting to waive or modify an employee’s rights under this section is void as against public policy and unenforceable.

(c) Nothing in this section prohibits an employer from providing employees with rights to family or medical leave insurance benefits that are more generous to the employee than the rights provided under this section.
(6) Tax treatment of benefits. (a) State income tax. Family or medical leave insurance benefits received under this section are exempt from state income taxation under s. 71.05 (6) (b) 53.

(b) Federal income tax. With respect to the federal income taxation of family or medical leave insurance benefits, the department shall do all of the following:

1. At the time an individual files a claim for those benefits, advise the individual that those benefits are subject to federal income taxation, that requirements exist under federal law pertaining to estimated tax payments, and that the individual may elect to have federal income taxes withheld from the individual’s benefit payments and may change that election not more than one time in an application year.

2. Permit the individual to elect to have federal income tax deducted and withheld from the individual’s benefit payments, permit the individual to change that election not more than one time in an application year, and deduct and withhold that tax in accordance with the individual’s election as provided under 26 USC 3402.

3. Upon making a deduction under subd. 2., transfer the amount deducted from the family and medical leave insurance trust fund to the federal internal revenue service.

4. In deducting and withholding federal income taxes from an individual’s benefit payments, follow all procedures specified by the federal internal revenue service pertaining to the deducting and withholding of federal income tax.

(7) Family and medical leave insurance trust fund. Each employee and each self–employed individual who elects coverage under sub. (2) (b) shall contribute to the family and medical leave insurance trust fund a percentage of his or her wages from employment or income from self–employment determined by the department.
under this subsection. In determining that percentage, the department shall consult with the commissioner of insurance, who shall recommend a percentage that is sufficient to finance the payment of benefits under sub. (2) (c) and the administration of the family and medical leave insurance program under this section. The department shall collect those contributions from employers and self-employed individuals who elect coverage under sub. (2) (b) in the same manner as the department collects contributions to the unemployment reserve fund under ss.
108.17 and 108.18. Section 108.10 applies to issues regarding liability of employers for contributions under this subsection. Contributions received under this subsection shall be deposited in the family and medical leave insurance trust fund and credited to the appropriation account under s. 20.445 (1) (w).

(8) Denial of claims; overpayments. (a) An individual whose claim for family or medical leave insurance benefits is denied by the department may request a hearing on the denial, and the department shall process the request for a hearing in the same manner that requests for hearings on unemployment insurance claims are processed under s. 108.09.

(b) If the department pays family or medical leave insurance benefits erroneously or as a result of willful misrepresentation, the department may seek repayment of those benefits in the same manner that the department recovers erroneous payments of unemployment insurance benefits under ss. 108.095, 108.22 (8), and 108.225. The department may waive recovery of an erroneous payment of family or medical leave insurance benefits if the erroneous payment was not the fault of the person who received it and if requiring repayment would be contrary to equity and good conscience. If an individual willfully makes a false statement or representation, or willfully fails to disclose a material fact, to obtain family or medical leave insurance benefits under this section, the individual is disqualified from receiving those benefits for one year after the date of the disqualification.

(9) Prohibited Acts. (a) No person may interfere with, restrain, or deny the exercise of any right provided under this section.

(b) No person may discharge or otherwise discriminate against any person for exercising any right provided under this section, opposing a practice prohibited under this section, filing a complaint or attempting to enforce any right provided under this section, or testifying or assisting in any action or proceeding to enforce any right provided under this section.

(10) Enforcement. (a) Any person who believes that his or her rights under this section have been interfered with, restrained, or denied in violation of sub. (9)
(a) or that he or she has been discharged or otherwise discriminated against in violation of sub. (9) (b) may, within 30 days after the violation occurs or the person should reasonably have known that the violation occurred, whichever is later, file a complaint with the department alleging the violation, and the department shall process the complaint in the same manner as complaints filed under s. 103.10 (12)
