January 12, 2016 – Introduced by LAW REVISION COMMITTEE. Referred to Committee on Rules.

AN ACT to repeal 20.566 (1) (gm), 85.07 (6), 85.515 and subchapter IV of chapter 139 [precedes 139.87]; and to amend 343.165 (1) (intro.), 343.165 (4) (a), 343.165 (5), 343.165 (7) (a) 2. and 343.165 (7) (b) of the statutes; relating to:
certain drinking age reports, the effective date of certain changes to the requirements for issuing operator’s licenses and identification cards, and repealing the tax on controlled substances (suggested as remedial legislation by the Department of Transportation).

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Current law requires the Department of Transportation to study the impact of raising the legal drinking age to 21 and report the results to the legislature by January 1, 1988, 1989, 1990, and 1991. This bill repeals this provision.

Under current federal law, the REAL ID Act of 2005 (REAL ID Act) prohibits a federal agency from accepting for any “official purpose,” including boarding commercial aircraft and entering federal buildings, an operator’s license or identification card issued by a state unless the state satisfies requirements contained in the REAL ID Act. While the provisions of the REAL ID Act became effective on May 11, 2008, the federal Department of Homeland Security regulations promulgated under the REAL ID Act gave states additional time to implement the REAL ID standards. The 2007 biennial budget act, 2007 Wisconsin Act 20, contained... provisions incorporating into state law requirements contained in the REAL ID Act. However, most of these provisions were subject to a contingent effective date; the provisions would not become effective until the date specified in a notice provided by DOT after DOT had determined that it was ready to fully implement the REAL ID Act. On November 30, 2012, DOT published the required notice, stating that January 1, 2013, would be the effective date for full implementation of the REAL ID Act.

This bill removes the statutory references to the contingent effective date.

This bill repeals the occupational tax on controlled substances.

Under current law, the state imposes an occupational tax on a person who sells illegal controlled substances in this state. Before selling an illegal controlled substance, the person must pay the tax and affix tax stamps to the product in order to prove that the person paid the tax. In 2004, the Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit held that imposing a criminal penalty for both possessing a controlled substance and failing to pay the occupational tax on the substance violated the double jeopardy clause of the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution which, generally, prohibits convicting an individual twice for the same crime. See Dye v. Frank, 355 F.3d 1102 (2004).
