AN ACT to amend 118.15 (3) (a) and 118.16 (4) (a); and to create 118.16 (2) (cg)

2m. of the statutes; relating to: requiring an evaluation by a local educational agency of whether a pupil with an extended absence from school is a child with a disability.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill requires a school attendance officer to direct the school board to determine whether to refer a child who has been excused absent for ten or more days for an evaluation as to whether the child is a child with a disability. Under current law, a child who has been evaluated and determined to be a child with a disability may be eligible for certain special education and related services. Current law defines a school attendance officer as an employee designated by the school board to deal with matters relating to school attendance and truancy. The bill requires the school attendance officer to notify the parent or guardian of a pupil that has been excused absent for ten or more days that the parent or guardian may request an evaluation of whether the child is a child with a disability.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:
