AN ACT to create 165.847 and 968.257 of the statutes; relating to: collecting and analyzing data related to certain strip searches.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill requires law enforcement officers who perform strip searches on jail detainees to provide information related to the searches to the Department of Justice. Under the bill, each law enforcement officer must make a record of each time he or she performs or directs another person to perform a strip search on a jail detainee who remains confined in the jail for fewer than 12 hours. The record must contain a notation of the detainee’s race, age, and gender, the reason he or she was arrested, including any criminal charge filed against him or her, the reason he or she was detained in jail, and the reason he or she was released from detention.

Under the bill, each law enforcement agency forwards the records to the Department of Justice for analysis on whether the practice of strip searches of detainees who are held for fewer than 12 hours in jail affects members of racial minorities disproportionately. The bill requires the Department of Justice to release its analysis and findings to the governor, the legislature, and the director of state courts.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
