(c), 975.61 (1) (d), 975.62 (title), 975.62 (1) (d), 975.62 (2), (3) and (4) and 975.63 (3) of the statutes; relating to: criminal procedure and providing penalties.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill reorganizes each chapter of the criminal procedure code, with the exception of chapter 973, Sentencing. This analysis is organized in the ascending order of the chapters, as reorganized in the bill. This bill creates subchapters in long chapters, separates long statutes into shorter statutes, reorganizes individual statutes, and provides titles for some provisions. This bill also creates new authority for courts and codifies some current practices.

Under this bill, chapter 967 contains definitions of terms used throughout the criminal procedure code and general provisions that, under current law, appear throughout the criminal procedure code. The bill also adds definitions for certain terms including “complaint,” “district attorney,” “felony,” “misdemeanor,” “motion,” and “sentencing.”

This bill moves to chapter 968 all current law provisions relating to investigative procedures such as inquests, John Doe proceedings, grand juries, wiretapping, and search and seizure provisions.

This bill creates a process that requires a court, upon the request of a district attorney and a showing that the information requested is relevant to a criminal investigation, to order a financial institution to disclose to the district attorney whether a specified person has or had an account at the financial institution.

Chapter 969, as reorganized under this bill, contains provisions addressing arrest and release, identifies ways to secure the appearance of a defendant, and includes provisions that allow expediting the processing of misdemeanors. Under current law, a citation issued by a law enforcement officer directs a person to appear in court and answer criminal charges. The citation may not be used as a criminal complaint. This bill allows a citation for a misdemeanor that is issued by a law enforcement officer to be used as a criminal complaint if the district attorney endorses it. The bill specifies that a citation must contain the crime the person allegedly committed, the time and place of the alleged commission, and the maximum penalty for the charged crime. The bill requires a law enforcement officer citing a person for a misdemeanor to release the person without a cash bond unless certain circumstances apply, including if the person does not provide proper identification or appears to pose a danger to a person or property.

Under current law, a law enforcement officer generally may release a person who is arrested without a warrant without requiring the person to appear before a judge if the law enforcement officer is satisfied that there are insufficient grounds to issue a criminal complaint against the person. Under this bill, a law enforcement officer may release such a person without determining that there are insufficient grounds to issue a criminal complaint.

If the court allows the release of a defendant before conviction or the release of a convicted person prior to sentencing, this bill specifies that the court may either release the person to return on a specific date without conditions or release the person on a personal recognizance bond, an unsecured appearance bond, or a secured appearance bond. This bill also allows a third party who has deposited cash for the release of a person on a secured appearance bond to apply to the court for an order to return the deposit before the entry of a judgment of conviction or forfeiture. The court then may determine whether to remit the deposit and whether to modify the conditions of release.

This bill generally requires a court to release a person who is arrested without a warrant within 48 hours of the arrest unless the court has determined there is probable cause to arrest the person.

Under this bill, chapter 970 contains provisions relating to the commencement of prosecutions.

This bill replaces several statutes governing deferred prosecution agreements in specific cases with one general statute defining and authorizing deferred and suspended prosecution agreements. The bill provides that the same standards that govern a district attorney’s charging authority also govern the district attorney’s authority to enter into a deferred prosecution agreement and that the same standards that apply to a court’s authority to schedule cases and grant continuances apply to a court’s authority to suspend prosecution under a suspended prosecution agreement. Under this bill, both a deferred prosecution agreement and a suspended prosecution agreement are enforceable in the same manner as a plea agreement. The bill further notes that consenting to a deferred prosecution or suspended prosecution agreement is not an admission of guilt nor is the consent admissible in a trial relating to the charge to which the agreement pertains. This bill makes generally applicable a provision in current law that grants immunity from civil liability in excess of $25,000 for acts or omissions by an organization or individual for whom an agreement assigns an individual to work.

Under this bill, chapter 971 addresses pretrial procedures and contains subchapters for commencement of proceedings, pleas, and provisions to expedite proceedings, discovery, motions, and juveniles in adult court. This bill creates one general statute for plea agreements. The bill provides that the district attorney and the defendant, without the court’s participation, may reach a plea agreement. The agreement may require the district attorney, if the defendant enters a plea of guilty or no contest, to take certain actions, including moving to dismiss or amend any charge; recommending the defendant’s request for a particular disposition; or agreeing that a specific disposition is appropriate. The bill also creates a single statute to clarify, and explain the consequences of, the different pleas available to the defendant.

Under current law, before a court may dismiss a criminal case, the court must inquire if the district attorney has offered all of the victims an opportunity to confer with the district attorney concerning the prosecution and outcome of the case. This bill codifies case law by adding that, if the district attorney moves to dismiss a complaint, the trial court must grant the motion unless the court finds that dismissal is contrary to the public interest or, if the motion is made during the trial, unless the defendant has not consented.
Under the bill, unless the district attorney establishes substantial prejudice, the court must grant a motion, made before sentencing, to withdraw a plea of guilty or no contest if a fair and just reason for doing so is established. Under this bill, the court must grant such a motion, made after sentencing, if the defendant did not knowingly, voluntarily, and understandingly enter the plea or if withdrawal is required to prevent a manifest injustice. Finally, the bill specifies that a withdrawal of a plea of guilty or no contest vacates the judgment, reinstates any original charge, and restores the parties to the position they were in before the plea was accepted.

This bill specifies that discovery is intended to do all of the following: promote fair and expeditious disposition of criminal charges, provide the defendant with sufficient information to make an informed plea, permit thorough preparation for and minimize surprise at trial, reduce interruptions and complications during trial and avoid unnecessary trials by resolving any issues before trial, minimize inequities among similarly situated defendants, effect economies, and minimize the burden upon victims and witnesses.

Current law requires a district attorney, upon demand and within a reasonable time before trial, to disclose to the defendant any relevant expert reports or statements or, if an expert does not prepare a report or statement, a written summary of the expert's findings or the subject of his or her testimony, and the results of any examination, scientific test, experiment, or comparison that the district attorney intends to offer in evidence. This bill requires any party who intends to call an expert witness to, not less than 30 days before trial, notify the other party of the expert's name, address, and qualifications and furnish any relevant expert reports or statements or, if none, a written summary of the expert's findings or the subject matter of his or her testimony, and the results of any mental examination, scientific test, experiment, or comparison that the first party intends to offer in evidence.

Under this bill, before trial and upon motion by either party, the court may issue a subpoena to require the production of documents and other tangible objects if the evidence may be material to the determination of issues. The motion and the subpoena must specify who must produce the material, whether certified copies of documents may be submitted in lieu of appearance, and other conditions.

Under this bill, the disclosure of discoverable material may be accomplished in any manner mutually agreeable to the parties. If the parties do not agree, the party that has the duty to disclose must either provide a copy of the material to be disclosed or notify the other party that the material may be inspected, copied, or photographed during specified reasonable times and provide suitable machinery for making copies.

This bill codifies the authority of courts to issue and amend scheduling orders.

Under this bill, the court may, upon motion by the district attorney, order a defendant to participate in a reasonable procedure to obtain nontestimonial evidence. Such procedures include appearing, moving, or speaking for identification in a lineup; trying on clothing or other articles; providing handwriting or voice exemplars; being photographed; having fingerprints or other body impressions taken; providing samples of blood, urine, saliva, semen, skin, breath, hair, or nails or materials under the nails; submitting to body measurements or other reasonable body surface examinations; and submitting to physical or medical inspection.
Under this bill, the court may, upon motion of a defendant, require an individual to participate in a reasonable procedure to obtain nontestimonial evidence if an affidavit or testimony shows probable cause to believe that the individual committed the crime with which the defendant is charged and that the evidence sought is necessary to an adequate defense and cannot practicably be obtained from other sources.

Under this bill, the district attorney may provide discovery before the initial appearance. Also, this bill requires the district attorney to disclose, at the initial appearance after the defendant has obtained or waived legal representation, any pertinent law enforcement investigative reports the district attorney has and a copy of the defendant's criminal record.

Under current law, the procedure for asserting that a statute is unconstitutional is located in the civil procedure statutes. This bill moves to the criminal procedure code the provision that, if a defendant moves to dismiss a criminal prosecution by asserting that the statute under which he or she is charged is unconstitutional, the defendant must serve the motion on the attorney general and the district attorney.

This bill specifies that, if a defendant moves for severance because a codefendant’s out-of-court statement refers to, but is not admissible against, the defendant and the court determines that the state intends to offer the statement in evidence, the court must require the district attorney to elect one of the following: 1) a joint trial at which the statement is not received in evidence; 2) a joint trial at which the statement is received in evidence only after all references to the defendant have been deleted, if admission of such a statement will not cause prejudice; 3) a separate trial for the defendant; or 4) if the court approves, a single trial with a separate jury for the defendant and the codefendant.

Under this bill, chapter 972 contains statutes relating to criminal trials. Under this bill, if the court at a criminal trial authorizes the jurors to ask questions of witnesses, the court must instruct the jury to ask only questions that clarify information already presented and must instruct the jury of the procedure to be used. The procedure provides that the question must be submitted in writing to the judge who will show the question to the parties. The parties may object to the question without the jury knowing. If the judge, upon reviewing the question and any objections, determines that the question is legally proper, the judge may ask it of the witness.

This bill clarifies procedures for jury selection and handling alternate jurors. Under current law, if the number of jurors, including any additional jurors selected, exceeds the required number when the case is submitted to the jury, the court must discharge by lot jurors that will not participate in deliberations. Under this bill, the court may, for good cause, discharge additional jurors other than by lot. Moreover, this bill allows the court to determine which jurors will not participate in deliberations but retain those jurors as alternates after the jury retires to deliberate. If a juror who is participating in deliberations becomes unavailable due to severe illness or extraordinary circumstances, the judge may replace the unavailable juror.
with a retained alternate juror. If an alternate replaces a juror after deliberations have begun, the court must instruct the jury to begin its deliberations anew.

This bill defines “stipulation” as an agreement between the parties that a specified fact is taken as established without need for proof. Further, a stipulation must be set forth on the record when the court accepts it, and, in a jury trial, the court must instruct the jury to take stipulated facts as conclusively proved.

This bill specifies that a verdict must be unanimous and returned in open court. Under current case law, a defendant in a criminal case has the right to poll the jury, and refusal to permit the defendant to do so is an error for which the verdict will be set aside. This bill requires a court to ask each juror individually whether the verdict as returned was and is the juror’s verdict. This bill requires the court to accept the verdict if it is in proper form and confirmed by the poll.

Under this bill, chapter 975 addresses mental health issues affecting a criminal prosecution such as competency to stand trial and mental responsibility, commonly known as the “insanity defense.” Under current law, when there is reason to doubt a defendant’s competency to proceed in a criminal action, the court must appoint an examiner to submit a report on the condition of the defendant that contains specified findings. This bill adds that, if the examiner reports that the defendant is not competent to proceed and that the defendant is not likely to become competent within the maximum period of commitment under the competency statutes, the examiner must provide his or her opinion on whether the defendant meets the criteria for civil commitment.

The bill reorganizes the competency hearing statutes and makes certain changes to burdens of persuasion. Under current law, at the outset of the competency hearing, if the defendant claims to be incompetent or is silent, the defendant must be found incompetent unless the state proves by the greater weight of the credible evidence that the defendant is competent. Under current law, if the defendant claims to be competent, the defendant must be found competent unless the state proves by clear and convincing evidence that the defendant is incompetent. Under the bill, the state has the burden of going forward with evidence at a competency hearing, and the court may find the defendant competent to proceed only if the court finds by the greater weight of the evidence that the defendant is competent to proceed. The bill specifies the following: 1) if the defendant is not competent and the court finds by the greater weight of the evidence that the defendant is not likely to become competent within the maximum period of commitment, the court must order the defendant be released or delivered to a facility; 2) if the defendant is not competent and the court finds by the greater weight of the evidence that the defendant is likely to become competent within the maximum period of commitment without inpatient treatment, the court must order that the defendant be released and may require the defendant to participate in outpatient treatment, or undergo periodic reexaminations to determine whether the defendant has become competent to proceed, for a period that does not exceed the maximum period of commitment; or 3) if the defendant is not competent and the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that the defendant is likely to become competent within the maximum period of commitment if provided appropriate inpatient treatment, the court must commit the defendant to the custody of the Department of Health Services (DHS) for treatment. Finally, if the defendant is committed to DHS and the state proves by clear and convincing evidence that the defendant is not competent to refuse medication or treatment, the court must find that the defendant is not competent to refuse medication or treatment and must order whoever administers medication or treatment to the defendant to observe appropriate medical standards.

Under current law, if the defendant is committed to the custody of DHS for treatment following a competency proceeding, the days spent in commitment are given credit toward the service of his or her sentence for the same course of conduct. This bill requires the court to include in the commitment order a specific finding of the number of days spent in precommitment custody.

Current law requires DHS to periodically reexamine the defendant and to submit to the court a written report on the defendant’s mental condition at three months, six months, and nine months after commitment. This bill requires an additional report if DHS determines that the defendant has become competent or that the defendant is not likely to become competent within the remaining commitment period and requires the court to schedule a review of this additional report within 14 days.

This bill creates a process for the court to follow whenever the court determines there is reason to doubt a defendant’s competency to proceed when seeking an appeal or a motion for postconviction relief. Pending the determination or after a finding of incompetency, the circuit court may allow proceedings on any issue raised by the defendant’s attorney that rests on the records, does not require the defendant to assist counsel or make a decision, and involves no risk to the defendant and the court of appeals may grant the defendant a continuance or lengthen the time for filing necessary notices or motions for postconviction relief. If the court finds that the defendant lacks competency, the court may appoint a guardian to make decisions or may order treatment to restore the defendant to competency to pursue postconviction relief. Finally, the bill provides that a defendant who lacks competency to pursue postconviction relief may, after regaining competency, raise any issue at a later proceeding that he or she did not raise earlier because of incompetency.

Under current law, if a defendant is found not guilty by reason of mental disease or defect, the court must enter a judgment of not guilty by reason of mental disease or defect and proceed to commitment. The judgment is interlocutory to the commitment order and reviewable upon appeal. Under this bill, the court must proceed to a dispositional hearing and the commitment order is the final order and is appealable as a matter of right. Upon appeal, this bill provides that all properly preserved issues, including those relating to the guilt phase of the trial, may be raised.

At the conclusion of the hearing, the court or jury shall make a determination of the facts, except that in a case alleging a child or an unborn child to be in need of protection or services under s. 48.13 or 48.133, the court shall make the determination under s. 48.13 (intro.) or 48.133 relating to whether the child or unborn child is in need of protection or services that can be ordered by the court. If the court finds that the child or unborn child is not within the jurisdiction of the court or, in a case alleging a child or an unborn child to be in need of protection or services under s. 48.13 or 48.133, that the child or unborn child is not in need of protection or services that can be ordered by the court, or if the court or jury finds that the facts alleged in the petition have not been proved, the court shall dismiss the petition with prejudice.

an action in the name of the city or village before the municipal court or in an action in the name of the city, village, town sanitary district or public inland lake protection and rehabilitation district before a court of record. If the action is in municipal court, the procedures under ch. 800 apply and the procedures under this section do not apply. If the action is in a court of record, it shall be commenced by warrant or summons under s. 968.04 969.20 or, if applicable, by citation under s. 778.25 or 778.26. A law enforcement officer may arrest the offender in all cases without warrant under s. 968.07 969.16. If the action is commenced by warrant the affidavit may be the complaint. The affidavit or complaint is sufficient if it alleges that the defendant has violated an ordinance or bylaw, specifying the ordinance or bylaw by section, chapter, title or otherwise with sufficient plainness to identify the ordinance or bylaw. The judge may release a defendant without a cash deposit or may permit him or her to execute an unsecured appearance bond upon arrest. In arrests without a warrant or summons a statement on the records of the court of the offense charged is the complaint unless the court directs that a formal complaint be issued. In all actions under this paragraph the defendant's plea shall be guilty, not guilty or no contest and shall be entered as not guilty on failure to plead. A plea of not guilty on failure to plead puts all matters in the case at issue, any other provision of law notwithstanding. The defendant may enter a not guilty plea by certified mail.

Each application shall include the following information:

3. A particular description of the type of communications sought to be intercepted; and

(e) A full and complete statement of the facts concerning all previous applications known to the individual authorizing and making the application, made to any court for authorization to intercept, or for approval of interceptions of, wire, electronic, or oral communications involving any of the same persons, facilities, or places specified in the application, and the action taken by the court on each such application; and

(c) A particular description of the type of communication sought to be intercepted and a statement of the particular offense to which it relates;

(d) The identity of the agency authorized to intercept the communications and of the person authorizing the application; and

(5) No order entered under this section may authorize or approve the interception of any wire, electronic, or oral communication for any period longer than is necessary to achieve the objective of the authorization, nor in any event longer than 30 days. The 30-day period begins on the earlier of the day on which the investigative or law enforcement officer first begins to conduct an interception under the order or 10 days after the order is entered. Extensions of an order may be granted, but only upon application for an extension made in accordance with sub. (1) and the court making the findings required by sub. (3). The period of extension shall be no longer than the authorizing judge deems necessary to achieve the purposes for which it was granted and in no event be for longer than 30 days. Every order and extension thereof shall contain a provision that the authorization to intercept shall be executed as soon as practicable, shall be conducted in such a way as to minimize the interception of communications not otherwise subject to interception under this chapter, and must terminate upon attainment of the authorized objective, or in any event in 30 days. In the event the intercepted communication is in a code or foreign language, and an expert in that foreign language or code is not reasonably available during the interception period, minimization may be accomplished as soon as practicable after the interception.

(6) Whenever an order authorizing interception is entered pursuant to ss. 968.28, 968.315 to 968.365, the order may require reports to be made to the court which issued the order showing what progress has been made toward achievement of the authorized objective and the need for continued interception. Such reports shall be made at such intervals as the court requires.

(7) (a) The contents of any wire, electronic, or oral communication intercepted by any means authorized by ss. 968.28, 968.315 to 968.37, 968.405 shall, if possible, be recorded on tape or wire or other comparable device. The recording of the contents of any wire, electronic, or oral communication under this subsection shall be done in such way as will protect the recording from editing or other alterations. Immediately upon the expiration of the period of the order or extensions thereof all such recordings and records of an intercepted wire, electronic, or oral communication shall be filed with the court issuing the order and the court shall order the same to be sealed. Custody of the recordings and records shall be wherever the judge handling the application shall order. They shall not be destroyed except upon an order of the issuing or denying judge and in any event shall be properly kept and preserved for 10 years. Duplicate recordings and other records may be made for use or disclosure pursuant to the provisions for investigations under ss. 968.29, 968.325 (1) and (2). The presence of the seal provided for by this subsection, or a satisfactory explanation for the absence thereof, shall be a prerequisite for the use or disclosure of the contents of any wire, electronic, or oral communication or evidence derived therefrom under s. 968.29 968.325 (3).

(b) Applications made and orders granted under ss. 968.28 968.315 to 968.33 968.365 together with all other papers and records in connection therewith shall be ordered sealed by the court. Custody of the applications, orders, and other papers and records shall be wherever the judge shall order. Such applications and orders shall be disclosed only upon a showing of good cause before the judge and shall not be destroyed except on order of the issuing or denying judge, and in any event shall be kept for 10 years.

(8) The contents of any intercepted wire, electronic, or oral communication or evidence derived therefrom shall not be received in evidence or otherwise disclosed in any trial, hearing, or other proceeding in any court of this state unless each party, not less than 10 days before the trial, hearing, or proceeding, has been furnished with a copy of the court order, and accompanying application, under which the interception was authorized or approved. This 10-day period may be waived by the judge if he or she finds that it was not possible to furnish the party with the above information 10 days before the trial, hearing, or proceeding and that the party will not be prejudiced by the delay in receiving the information.

(9) (a) Any aggrieved person in any trial, hearing, or proceeding in or before any court, department, officer, agency, regulatory body, or other authority of this state, or a political subdivision thereof, may move before the trial court or the court granting the original warrant to suppress the contents of any intercepted wire, electronic, or oral communication, or evidence derived therefrom, on the grounds that the communication was unlawfully intercepted; the order of authorization or approval under which it was intercepted is insufficient on its face; or the interception was not made in conformity with the order of authorization or approval. The motion shall be made before the trial, hearing, or proceeding unless there was no opportunity to make the motion or the person was not aware of the grounds of the motion. If the motion is granted, the contents of the intercepted wire, electronic, or oral communication, or evidence derived therefrom, shall be treated as having been obtained in violation of ss. 968.28 to 968.405. The judge may, upon the filing of the motion by the aggrieved person, make available to the aggrieved person or his or her counsel for inspection such portions of the intercepted communication or evidence derived therefrom as the judge determines to be in the interest of justice.

(b) In addition to any other right to appeal, the state shall have the right to appeal from any of the following:

1. From an order granting a motion to suppress made under par. (a) if the attorney general or district attorney certifies to the judge or other official granting such motion that the appeal is not entered for purposes of delay and shall be diligently prosecuted as in the case of other interlocutory appeals or under such rules as the supreme court adopts; or,

2. From an order denying an application for an order of authorization or approval, and such an appeal shall be ex parte and shall be in camera in preference to all other pending appeals in accordance with rules promulgated by the supreme court.

(10) Nothing in ss. 968.28 to 968.405 shall be construed to allow the interception of any wire, electronic, or oral communication between an attorney and a client.

Consolidation refers to the process by which charged or uncharged crimes pending in more than one county are resolved in a single proceeding in one county. Consolidation is a voluntary procedure, requiring the consent of the defendant and the district attorneys for all counties whose charges are resolved. Consolidated charged or uncharged crimes shall be resolved by the entry of a plea of guilty or no contest or by an agreement that charged or uncharged crimes be treated as read-in crimes. A defendant who has already been convicted of but not sentenced for a crime may apply for consolidation of any pending or uncharged crime committed.

(2) Application for consolidation. A defendant may apply to the district attorney for a county in which a charge against the defendant is pending to resolve in a single proceeding in one county any pending cases. In the application, the defendant shall describe with particularity all the crimes that the defendant seeks to resolve in the single proceeding, indicate the county in which each of the crimes was committed, and indicate the county in which the defendant requests final disposition.
(3) NOTICE AND CONSENT. A district attorney who receives an application under sub. (2) shall send a copy of the application to the district attorney for each county in which a crime indicated in the application was committed. A district attorney who receives a copy of the application may execute a written consent to having any crime indicated in the application that is subject to disposition in his or her county resolved in a proceeding in another county. If a district attorney does not consent to having a crime that is subject to disposition in his or her county resolved in another county, the crime may not be resolved under this section.

(4) AMENDING THE CHARGE; PLEA; READ-IN CRIMES. (a) If the district attorney to whom the defendant submitted the application under sub. (2) consents to resolving a case that is subject to disposition in his or her county in a single proceeding under this section, the district attorney shall file an amended complaint that charges the defendant with all crimes identified in consents executed under sub. (3) that are not to be treated as read-in crimes.

(b) To resolve crimes charged in the amended complaint under par. (a) in a single proceeding, the defendant shall waive in writing or on the record any right to be tried in the county in which a crime charged in the amended complaint was committed and enter a plea of guilty or no contest to each crime charged in the amended complaint.

(c) To resolve read-in crimes under this section, the defendant shall affirm his or her agreement to having the crimes considered at sentencing.

(d) A district attorney who executed a consent under sub. (3) need not be present when the defendant enters his or her plea but the district attorney’s written consent shall be filed with the court.
(e) A charge that originated in a county may not be amended or dismissed without prior written approval of the district attorney for the county in which the charge originated.

(5) JUDGMENT. If it accepts the defendant’s plea, the court shall enter judgment and sentence the defendant as though all crimes charged in the amended complaint were alleged to have been committed in the county where judgment is entered and may consider at sentencing any read-in crimes affirmed under sub. (4) (c). The clerk of the court for the county in which judgment is entered shall file a copy of the judgment of conviction with the clerk of the court for each other county in which charges addressed in the judgment or treated as read-in crimes originated. The district attorney for each of the other counties shall then move to dismiss any charges that are pending in his or her county against the defendant for charges addressed in the judgment or as treated as read-in crimes.

(6) RIGHTS OF CRIME VICTIMS. The duties of the district attorney under ch. 950 and s. 971.095 shall be discharged by the district attorney for the county in which the crimes occurred, unless otherwise agreed to by the participating district attorneys.

(7) PROSECUTION COSTS. The county in which the plea is made shall pay the costs of prosecution if the defendant does not pay them, and is entitled to retain fees for receiving and paying to the state any fine that the defendant may pay. The clerk where the plea is made shall file a copy of the judgment of conviction with the clerk in each county where a crime covered by the plea was committed. The district attorney shall then move to dismiss any charges covered by the plea of guilty, which are pending against the defendant in the district attorney’s county, and the charges shall be dismissed.

SECTION 730. 971.093 of the statutes is created to read:
971.093 Withdrawal of a plea of guilty or no contest. (1) Before sentencing. (2) After sentencing. The court shall grant a motion that is made after sentencing to withdraw a plea of guilty or no contest if the defendant did not knowingly, voluntarily, and understandingly enter the plea or if withdrawal is required to prevent manifest injustice.

(3) Remedy. When the court grants a motion to withdraw a plea of guilty or no contest under this section, the judgment of conviction is vacated, the original charge or charges reinstated, and the parties are restored to the position they were in before the plea and any related plea agreement was accepted.

The duty to confer under this subsection does not limit the obligation of the district attorney to exercise his or her discretion concerning the handling of any criminal charge against the defendant.

(3) At the request of a victim, a district attorney shall make a reasonable attempt to provide the victim with notice of the date, time, and place of scheduled court proceedings in a case involving the prosecution of a crime of which he or she is a victim and any changes in the date, time, or place of a scheduled court
