Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This substitute amendment creates a Wisconsin conservation corps (WCC) program to protect, enhance, and provide access to Wisconsin's natural heritage and encourage and enable young people to learn the value of work in a natural setting by providing employment training and career pathways. The substitute amendment directs the Department of Administration to administer and manage the program or to contract with a nonprofit corporation, or an institution of higher education, that has demonstrated experience in grant program administration (manager) to manage and administer the program. The manager then provides grants to organizations that have experience in natural resources conservation to engage, train, and supervise work crews to carry out each project. The substitute amendment requires DOA to ensure that projects are equally distributed across technical college districts to the greatest extent possible, and to ensure that at least one project is located in each technical college district in each year.

The substitute amendment provides that a WCC project must be designed to carry out a specific goal within a defined period of time, must be focused on the conservation or enjoyment of natural resources for environmental conservation, and must have a specific, beneficial, and physical effect. The project must also be eligible for AmeriCorps education award matching. Environmental conservation projects may include new trail construction, trail rehabilitation, invasive species management, bridge and boardwalk construction, reforestation, timber stand improvement, stream bank stabilization, erosion control, rain garden installation, prairie restoration, historical site preservation, recreation site maintenance, wild land fire hazard reduction and fuels management, lake and stream restoration, boundary marking, fencing, or landscaping.

A project may be sited only on public land in this state. The substitute amendment permits local governments, institutions of higher education, or nonprofit corporations to sponsor projects. A project application is then submitted to DOA. The application must identify the proposed project and the sponsor of the project and provide a detailed plan for the work on the project. In addition, the application must contain an enumeration of the number of work crews that will work on the project and an affirmation as to whether the work crew members would be eligible to participate in a youth corps program administered by the National and Community Service Board (NCSB), as well as a plan for training the work crew members, providing transportation to the project work sites, making available individualized educational opportunities for work crew members suited to the qualifications, experience, and needs of the members while they are working on the projects; for assisting work crew members in making full use of all benefits provided under such a youth corps program if the project qualifies as a youth corps program; and for visiting a college campus to familiarize the crew members with application and enrollment procedures, programs, and course offerings.

The substitute amendment provides that each work crew member on a WCC project must be between the ages of 16 and 25, and at least 50 percent of the work crew members on each project must have no postsecondary education and have a family income of not more than 200 percent of the federal poverty line on the date of their initial engagement.

The substitute amendment provides that, if the manager determines that an application is an appropriate WCC project and that work crew members would be eligible under the program, the manager must submit the application to NCSB for funding. The manager must also submit the application to DOA for a grant. DOA may award a grant for the project if the sponsor provides funding for the project in an amount that is at least 50 percent of the amount of the grant. The substitute amendment also limits the administrative costs associated with the grant to 10 percent of the grant amount.

The substitute amendment ^{bill} requires each sponsor of a WCC project to do both of the following: upon completion of the project, erect a permanent plaque at each work site identifying the site as a WCC project; and submit a report to DOA identifying the number of work crew members who enrolled at a postsecondary institution upon completion of the project and their status on the first anniversary of completion of the project.

The substitute amendment ^{bill} permits DOA to retain its manager and permits other state agencies to engage a WCC crew on a project without complying with state procurement laws, including requirements for public notice to and competitive solicitation of contractors and limitations on the circumstances when contractual services may be obtained.

Finally, the substitute amendment ^{bill} requires DOA to submit an annual report to the legislature identifying the projects that were completed in each year or that are in the process of completion as of the end of that year.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill creates a Wisconsin conservation corps (WCC) program to protect, enhance, and provide access to Wisconsin's natural heritage and encourage and enable young people to learn the value of work in a natural setting by providing employment training and career pathways. The bill directs the Department of Administration to administer and manage the program or to contract with a nonprofit corporation, or an institution of higher education, that has demonstrated experience in grant program administration (manager) to manage and administer the program. The manager then provides grants to organizations that have experience in natural resources conservation to engage, train, and supervise work crews to carry out each project. The bill requires DOA to ensure that projects are equally distributed across technical college districts to the greatest extent possible, and to ensure that at least one project is located in each technical college district in each year.

The bill provides that a WCC project must be designed to carry out a specific goal within a defined period of time, must be focused on the conservation or enjoyment of natural resources for environmental conservation, and must have a specific, beneficial, and physical effect. The project must also be eligible for AmeriCorps education award matching. Environmental conservation projects may include new trail construction, trail rehabilitation, invasive species management, bridge and boardwalk construction, reforestation, timber stand improvement, stream bank stabilization, erosion control, rain garden installation, prairie restoration, historical site preservation, recreation site maintenance, wild land fire hazard reduction and fuels management, lake and stream restoration, boundary marking, fencing, or landscaping.

A project may be sited only on public land in this state. The bill permits local governments, institutions of higher education, or nonprofit corporations to sponsor projects. A project application is then submitted to DOA. The application must identify the proposed project and the sponsor of the project and provide a detailed plan for the work on the project. In addition, the application must contain an enumeration of the number of work crews that will work on the project and an affirmation as to whether the work crew members would be eligible to participate in a youth corps program administered by the National and Community Service Board (NCSB), as well as a plan for training the work crew members, providing transportation to the project work sites, making available individualized educational opportunities for work crew members suited to the qualifications, experience, and needs of the members while they are working on the projects; for assisting work crew members in making full use of all benefits provided under such a youth corps program if the project qualifies as a youth corps program; and for visiting a college campus to familiarize the crew members with application and enrollment procedures, programs, and course offerings.

The bill provides that each work crew member on a WCC project must be between the ages of 16 and 25, and at least 50 percent of the work crew members on each project must have no postsecondary education and have a family income of not more than 200 percent of the federal poverty line on the date of their initial engagement.

The bill provides that, if the manager determines that an application is an appropriate WCC project and that work crew members would be eligible under the program, the manager must submit the application to NCSB for funding. The manager must also submit the application to DOA for a grant. DOA may award a grant for the project if the sponsor provides funding for the project in an amount that is at least 50 percent of the amount of the grant. The bill also limits the administrative costs associated with the grant to 10 percent of the grant amount.

The bill requires each sponsor of a WCC project to do both of the following: upon completion of the project, erect a permanent plaque at each work site identifying the site as a WCC project; and submit a report to DOA identifying the number of work crew members who enrolled at a postsecondary institution upon completion of the project and their status on the first anniversary of completion of the project.

The bill permits DOA to retain its manager and permits other state agencies to engage a WCC crew on a project without complying with state procurement laws, including requirements for public notice to and competitive solicitation of contractors and limitations on the circumstances when contractual services may be obtained.

Finally, the bill requires DOA to submit an annual report to the legislature identifying the projects that were completed in each year or that are in the process of completion as of the end of that year.
