Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

The bill would add a new license type, dental therapist. The department would be required to promulgate administrative rules to regulate the profession. The department estimates that it would require approximately 125 hours of staff time to promulgate the rules. The department would also incur one-time costs related to: 1) updating the Integrated Credentialing Enforcement (ICE) database system and Online Licensure Application System (OLAS); 2) testing the changes to ICE and OLAS; 3) creating new forms; 4) creating new licensure procedures; 5) training staff on the new licensure requirements and procedures; and, 6) updating the department's website.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications

The department would incur costs related to the issuance of new licenses and the biennial renewal of licenses. The department would also receive additional revenue from credentialing fees. The department cannot estimate the number of individuals that would seek licensure under this proposal. Without knowing the number of potential license holders, the department cannot estimate the ongoing costs nor revenues.
