Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill changes the procedures for relocating a child's residence when a court grants any periods of physical placement with a child to both parents and one parent intends to relocate and reside with the child 100 miles or more from the other parent.

Under current law, if the court grants periods of physical placement to more than one parent, a parent is required to provide at least 60 days' written notice to the court and the other parent of intent to move with the child out of state; move 150 miles or more from the other parent; or remove the child from the state for more than 90 consecutive days. If the other parent objects to the proposed action, he or she may file a notice of objection.

Currently, upon notice of objection, the court must refer the parents for mediation or other family court services and may appoint a guardian ad litem. If the dispute cannot be resolved through mediation, the court must appoint a guardian ad litem and may modify the legal custody or physical placement order to accommodate or prohibit the move. Depending on how custody and placement are allocated between the parents, there are a number of factors that the court must consider, including whether modification is in the best interest of the child, when determining whether to modify the legal custody or physical placement order affecting the child.

Under the bill, if both parents are granted periods of physical placement with a child, a parent must obtain a court order before relocating with the child 100 miles or more from the other parent, unless the parents already live 100 miles or more away from each other. The bill requires a parent to file a motion to relocate a child's residence and a relocation plan, and requires an initial hearing on the motion to be held within 30 days of filing. If the other parent does not object or appear at the hearing, the court must approve the relocation plan submitted by the parent unless it finds that the plan is not in the best interest of the child. Under the bill, if the parents already live 100 miles or more away from each other, a parent proposing to relocate with a child must provide 60 days' written notice to the other parent.

If the other parent objects to the relocation, the court must require a response from the objecting parent, refer the parties to mediation, appoint a guardian ad litem, and set the matter for a second hearing to be held within 60 days. After the initial hearing but before the final hearing, the court may allow a parent to relocate with the child, subject to revision at the final hearing, if the court finds that the relocation is in the child's best interest. Under the bill, if the proposed relocation plan does not affect the existing placement schedule or only minimally affects the existing placement schedule, the court is required to approve the proposed relocation. If the proposed relocation will have more than a minimal effect on the existing placement schedule, the court is required to consider the factors in custody and physical placement determinations. Under the bill, there is a presumption in favor of granting the motion to relocate the child if the objecting parent has not significantly exercised court-ordered physical placement or if the move is related to abuse.

At any time after a motion for relocation of a child is filed, the bill allows the parties to file a stipulated agreement with the court that specifies that neither parent has any objection to the planned relocation and that sets out any agreed upon modification to legal custody or periods of physical placement. The bill requires the court to incorporate the terms of the stipulation into an order for relocation or revised order of legal custody or physical placement, unless the court finds that the modification is not in the best interest of the child.

2 was properly served and does not appear at the hearing, or appears at the hearing
3 but does not object to the proposed relocation plan, the court shall approve the 4 proposed relocation plan submitted by the parent filing the motion unless the court
5 finds that the proposed relocation plan is not in the best interest of the child.

6 (c) If the parent not filing the motion appears at the initial hearing and objects
7 to the relocation plan, the court shall do all of the following:

8 1. Require the parent who objects to respond by stating in writing within 5

24 parties are unable to reach an agreement on the issue.

25 4. Set the matter for a further hearing to be held within 60 days.

ASSEMBLY BILL 551

1           (3) RELOCATION PENDING FINAL HEARING. (a) At the initial hearing, or at any time
2 after the initial hearing but before the final hearing, the court may issue a temporary
3 order under s. 767.225 (1) (bm) to allow the parent proposing the relocation to 4 relocate with the child if the court finds that the relocation is in the child's immediate 5 best interest. The court shall inform the parties, however, that approval of the 6 relocation is subject to revision at the final hearing.

7           (b) If a court commissioner makes a determination, order, or ruling regarding
8 relocation pending the final hearing under par. (a), either party may seek a review
9 by hearing de novo under s. 757.69 (8). The motion requesting the de novo hearing
10 must be filed with the court within 10 days after the court commissioner orally issues
11 the determination, order, or ruling. The judge shall hold the de novo hearing within 12 30 days after the motion requesting the de novo hearing is filed, unless the court finds
13 good cause for an extension.

14           (4) STANDARDS FOR DECIDING RELOCATION MOTIONS. At the final hearing, the court
15 shall decide the matter as follows:

16           (a) If the proposed relocation only minimally changes or affects the current 17 placement schedule or does not affect or change the current placement schedule, the 18 court shall approve the proposed relocation, set a new placement schedule if 19 appropriate, and allocate the costs of and responsibility for transportation of the 20 child between the parties under the new placement schedule.

21           (b) In cases other than that specified in par. (a), the court shall, in determining 22 whether to approve the proposed relocation and a new placement schedule, use the 23 following factors:

- 24           1. The factors under s. 767.41 (5).

ASSEMBLY BILL 551*SECTION 8

1           2. A presumption that the court should approve the plan of the parent
2 proposing the relocation if the court determines that the objecting parent has not
3 significantly exercised court-ordered physical placement.

4           3. A presumption that the court should approve the relocation plan if the court
5 determines that the parent's relocation is related to abuse, as defined in s. 813.122
6 (1) (a), of the child, as defined in s. 813.122 (1) (b); a pattern or serious incident of 7 interspousal battery, as described under s. 940.19 or 940.20 (1m); or a pattern or 8 serious incident of domestic abuse, as defined in s. 813.12 (1) (am).

9           (c) If the objecting parent files a responsive motion that seeks a substantial
10 change in physical placement or a change in legal custody, the court shall, in deciding 11 the motion of the objecting parent, use the following factors:

12           1. The factors under s. 767.41 (5).

13           2. A presumption against transferring legal custody or the residence of the 14 child to a parent who the court determines has significantly failed to exercise
15 court-ordered physical placement.

16           3. A presumption that the court should approve the plan of the parent
17 proposing the relocation if the court determines that the parent's relocation is related 18 to abuse, as defined in s. 813.122 (1) (a), of the child, as defined in s. 813.122 (1) (b);
19 a pattern or serious incident of interspousal battery, as described under s. 940.19 or 20 940.20 (1m); or a pattern or serious incident of domestic abuse, as defined in s. 813.12
21 (1) (am).

22           (d) The court shall decide all contested relocation motions and all related
23 motions for modification of legal custody or physical placement in the best interest
24 of the child. The movant bears the burden of proof in a contested relocation motion 25 or a related motion for modification of legal custody or physical placement except in

ASSEMBLY BILL 551

1 cases involving a presumption under par. (b) 2. or 3. or (c) 2. or 3. In cases involving 2 a presumption under par. (b) 2. or 3. or (c) 2. or 3., the parent objecting to the
3 relocation shall have the burden of proof in demonstrating the proposed relocation
4 is not in the child's best interest.

5 (e) If the objecting parent files a responsive motion that seeks a substantial
6 change in physical placement or a change in legal custody, and the parent proposing
7 the relocation withdraws or otherwise fails to pursue his or her relocation motion or 8 the court does not allow the relocation, the court shall proceed on the objecting
9 parent's responsive motion under s. 767.451.

10 (5) STIPULATIONS. At any time after a motion is filed under sub. (1), if the parties
11 agree that one parent may relocate more than 100 miles away from the other parent, 12 the parties may file a stipulation with the court that specifies that neither parent has 13 any objection to the planned relocation and that sets out any agreed upon 14 modification to legal custody or periods of physical placement, including 15 responsibility and costs for transportation of the child between the parties under a 16 proposed new placement schedule. The court shall incorporate the terms of the 17 stipulation into an order for the relocation or a revised order of legal custody or 18 physical placement, as appropriate, unless the court finds that the modification is 19 not in the best interest of the child.

20 (6) OTHER NOTICE REQUIRED FOR REMOVALS. Except as otherwise provided in an 21 order or judgment allocating periods of physical placement with a child, a person who 22 has legal custody of and periods of physical placement with the child shall notify any 23 other person who has periods of physical placement with the child before removing 24 the child from the child's residence for a period of more than 14 consecutive days.
