Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau
This bill establishes a licensure program for professional leasing and renting agents administered by the Real Estate Examining Board. The bill defines “professional leasing and renting” as, for compensation 1) renting or leasing real estate to a tenant; 2) making representations about the condition of real estate available for lease or rent; 3) showing real estate that is offered exclusively for lease or rent; 4) directing potential tenants about how to complete and sign lease agreements or rental agreements for real estate; and 5) screening applicants for real estate available for lease or rent.
Under the bill, and subject to certain exceptions, a person may engage in professional leasing and renting in Wisconsin only if the person is licensed by the examining board as a professional leasing and renting agent. The examining board may grant a license to engage in professional leasing and renting to an applicant who, among other things, is at least 18 years old, completes an educational program approved by the examining board, passes an examination approved by the examining board, and does not have a prior conviction for certain felonies or an offense related to the practice of real estate. The bill requires a licensed professional leasing and renting agent to complete continuing education requirements, as determined by the board, every two years in order to renew the license.

The bill adds a person who is licensed as a professional leasing and renting agent to the examining board. Under the bill, the examining board investigates, holds hearings, and makes findings pertaining to violations of the bill, therefore, certain violations by professional leasing and renting agents are punishable by a civil forfeiture of up to $1,000 and other violations of the professional leasing and renting provisions are punishable by a criminal fine of up to $1,000 or up to six months of jail or both. The penalties under the bill are the same that apply under current law to real estate brokers and salespersons. The bill also adds a person who is licensed as a professional leasing and renting agent and who has at least two years of work experience with that license to the Council on Real Estate Curriculum and Examinations. Under current law, the examining board is required to consult with the council before the examining board promulgates rules that establish criteria for educational programs required for licensure in real estate professions and for continuing education programs required for licensure in a real estate profession, and the council also has certain other duties.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
