To amend section 2 of article I of the constitution; relating to: slavery or involuntary servitude in punishment of a crime (first consideration).

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This proposed constitutional amendment, proposed to the 2017 legislature on first consideration, eliminates the exception to the constitutional prohibition against slavery and involuntary servitude for the punishment of a crime for which the party has been duly convicted. Under the constitutional amendment, slavery and involuntary servitude are prohibited without exception.

A proposed constitutional amendment requires adoption by two successive legislatures, and ratification by the people, before it becomes effective.

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That:

SECTION 1. Section 2 of article I of the constitution is amended to read:

[Article I] Section 2. There shall be neither slavery, nor involuntary servitude in this state, otherwise than for the punishment of crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted.
Be it further resolved, That this proposed amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election and that it be published for three months previous to the time of holding such election.
