Subject: SJR Drafting Request for Sen. Cowles

Good afternoon,

I am looking to get a p-draft for Sen. Cowles of a Senate Joint Resolution to establish November 1st as Electa Quinney Day in Wisconsin.

First, we wanted to check to make sure that a day such as this can be proclaimed to commemorate and recognize a person for more than just one year. I looked at a couple of handfuls of SJRs from 2017-18, and it appeared that it was possible to dedicate a day/week/month for more than one specific year in those where the year wasn't mentioned, but if this is not possible or if you have any questions, please let me know.

The draft of the language we've worked up is below:

Whereas, Electa "Wuhwehweeheemeew" Quinney was born into an influential family which included several Tribal Chiefs in the Stockbridge-Munsee Band of Mohicans in 1802 in Stockbridge, Massachusetts and was educated in some of the best boarding schools in New York and Connecticut; and

Whereas, after teaching for six years in New York, the Stockbridge-Munsee Band of Mohicans were forcibly removed from New York, and after negotiating an agreement with the Menominee Indians, Electa Quinney moved with the Stockbridge-Munsee Tribe to Wisconsin; and

Whereas, after arriving in Wisconsin on June 20, 1828, Electa Quinney quickly began teaching in a new one-room schoolhouse open to both Native American and white students in Statesburg, which is now Kaukauna, and frequently taught multiple subjects to class sizes as large as fifty students; and

Whereas, this school was the first in Wisconsin to not charge an enrollment fee which allowed students of all backgrounds to receive an education, and at this school Electa Quinney also became Wisconsin's first female teacher; and

Whereas, while Electa Quinney died in 1885 and was buried in Stockbridge, Wisconsin, her role in Native American history, our public education system legacy, and the advancement of women's rights have long proceeded her passing; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That the Wisconsin Legislature proclaims November 1, the first day of National Native American Heritage Month, as Electa Quinney Day in Wisconsin and calls upon all citizens, educators, and students to take this opportunity to recognize the impact Electa Quinney had on Wisconsin's early history and how her legacy still shapes Wisconsin today.

Thank you in advance for all of your help on drafting this resolution.

Hello Cathlene,

I'm looking to make just a couple of updates to LRB 0854/P1 to create Electa Quinney Day.

First, on line 3, remove the comma after Massachusetts to now read "...Stockbridge, Massachusetts to an influential..."

One line later in line four, remove the comma after Mohicans and remove the 'she' two words later to read "...Band of Mohicans and was educated in some..."

Finally on the second page in line two, remove the comma after fee to now read "...enrollment fee which allowed students of all..."

Thank you for all of your help on this SJR!

Hi Cathlene,

I would like to request a /1 of LRB 0854. If possible, we are looking to put that out today. We would also like to open the drafting file for Rep. Felzkowski's office to get an Assembly companion for this resolution.

Thank you for all your help on this resolution!
