~~1.~~ Salvage vehicle inspectors

Under current law, a repaired salvage vehicle may not be registered or be issued a new certificate of title until an inspector authorized by DOT examines the vehicle to verify the title, source and ownership of parts, and compliance with safety equipment requirements. Current rules promulgated by DOT require that a person be a Wisconsin law enforcement officer or a full-time employee of DOT's division of state patrol and complete specified training to be qualified to conduct salvage inspections. This bill prohibits DOT from requiring that a salvage inspector be employed by the department or by a law enforcement agency.
