Let's keep it as a bureau, even if unconventional. Thanks.

Maggie,

It is not absolutely necessary that this be a division, I can certainly draft it to be a bureau. I'm just not sure how common it is for a bureau that is a subunit of a division to answer directly to the secretary of an agency rather than to the division head. But just let me know which way you'd like to go.

Hi Maggie,

If the director reports to the Secretary, could we make this a division instead of a bureau? Under chapter 15, a division is the principal subunit of a department, and a bureau is the principal subunit of a division.
