2019 Assembly Bill 198

Assembly Amendment 1

2019 ASSEMBLY BILL 198

Under current law, in general, it is a Class A misdemeanor for a person to intentionally cause bodily harm¹ (battery) to a person. However, it is a Class H felony for a person to commit, or threaten to commit, a battery against a probation, extended supervision, parole, community supervision, or aftercare agent (agent). The penalty for a Class A misdemeanor is a fine of up to $10,000, imprisonment up to nine months, or both. The penalty for a Class H felony is a fine of up to $10,000, imprisonment of up to six years, or both.

Assembly Bill 198 provides that it is also a Class H felony to commit, or threaten to commit, a battery against an agent or the family members of an agent. The bill defines a “family member” to mean “a spouse, child, stepchild, foster child, parent, sibling, or grandchild.”

ASSEMBLY AMENDMENT 1

Assembly Amendment 1 amends the bill to also provide that it is a Class H felony to commit, or threaten to commit, a battery against a tribal agent who exercise control over a juvenile on an aftercare program, or an agent’s family members.
