certain energy-related loans, implement other energy-related programs, and make certain grants and making an appropriation.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill creates the Wisconsin Renewable Energy Development Authority and authorizes WREDA to implement programs for developing renewable resources, reducing energy consumption, and improving energy efficiency. An authority is a public body created by state law that is not a state agency. Under this bill, the board of directors of WREDA consists of 11 members. Five members of the board are appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate to four-year terms. One of those members must be a commercial lender and four must represent “eligible businesses,” as defined in the bill and discussed below. The other members are the following or their designees: the secretary of natural resources; the secretary of agriculture, trade and consumer protection; the chief executive officer of the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation; the chair of the public service commission; the dean of the University of Wisconsin-Madison College of Agriculture and Life Sciences; and the director of the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation. The board must appoint an executive director and, subject to a maximum limit, determine the executive director’s compensation.

The bill authorizes WREDA to issue bonds to carry out its functions, except that WREDA may generally have no more than $500,000,000 in outstanding bonds at any time. WREDA’s bonds are not state debt. The bill creates an individual and corporate income tax exemption for interest on bonds issued by WREDA. Also, WREDA’s purchases are exempt from sales tax. The bill also makes an appropriation from the general fund to WREDA and requires WREDA to enter into an agreement with the secretary of administration for repaying the appropriation from any surpluses.

Because WREDA is not a state agency, numerous requirements that apply to state agencies do not apply to WREDA. However, the bill treats WREDA like a state agency for the purpose of specified requirements, including the following: 1) WREDA is subject to the open meetings laws; 2) WREDA is subject to auditing by the Legislative Audit Bureau; 3) WREDA is treated like a state agency for purposes of requirements regarding lobbying; 4) the code of ethics for public officials and employees applies to WREDA; and 5) employees of WREDA are considered state employees for the purposes of state retirement benefits and health insurance coverage. WREDA is also subject to the open records law, except that personal and financial information provided by a person seeking financial assistance from WREDA is confidential.

As discussed below, the bill allows WREDA to implement programs for participating in loans, guaranteeing loans, and making grants. The bill also allows WREDA to implement other programs.

Loan participation. The bill allows WREDA to participate in loans made by lenders to eligible borrowers. The bill defines “eligible borrower” as an individual residing in this state, or a partnership or corporation operating in this state, who demonstrates a need for a loan for one of the following: 1) capital or operating expenses of an eligible business or 2) any expenses of an eligible project. An “eligible business” is defined as a commercial entity that either 1) produces energy, fuels, chemicals, or products primarily from renewable resources or agricultural, forestry, plant, or other biological materials or 2) provides services related to reducing energy consumption or improving energy efficiency. “Eligible project” is defined as a project for reducing energy consumption or improving energy efficiency of a commercial entity. In addition, the project must involve constructing any new plant, equipment, property, or extending, improving, or adding to an existing plant, equipment, property, or facilities. To qualify as an “eligible borrower,” a person must demonstrate the ability to repay a loan. In addition, if the borrower is an individual, he or she must be in compliance with any applicable child support and related requirements.

The bill limits WREDA’s participation in a loan to financing not more than 50 percent or $25,000,000, whichever is less, of the principal of the loan. In addition, the lender must apply to WREDA for approval and enter into a participation agreement with WREDA. Also, WREDA must ensure that it obtains a security interest for the loan. The bill specifies other requirements, including requirements for collateral, length of terms, and fees, and allows WREDA to adopt guidelines and policies for loan participation.

Loan guarantees. The bill allows WREDA to establish programs with lenders for guaranteeing repayment of loans for financing either 1) capital or operating expenses of eligible businesses or 2) expenses of eligible projects. “Eligible business” and “eligible project” are defined as described above. A loan is eligible for guarantee if the borrower does not meet the lender’s minimum standards of creditworthiness. Also, new or expanded business must result for the commercial entity whose eligible business or project is the subject of the loan. In addition, if the borrower is an individual, he or she must be in compliance with any applicable child support and related requirements. The bill allows WREDA to guarantee repayment of not more than 90 percent of the principal of a loan. Other requirements apply to interest rates, security interests, length and extension of terms, business insurance, origination fees, refinancing, and guarantee agreements between WREDA and lenders. Also, the total outstanding amount of all loans to a borrower may not exceed $25,000,000 or a lesser amount determined by WREDA.

The bill establishes a Wisconsin clean and renewable energy reserve fund under WREDA’s control, which is used for the guarantees described above. The bill prohibits WREDA from using any other moneys for the guarantees. WREDA may deposit into the reserve fund an amount that it determines from the appropriation the bill makes to WREDA from the general fund. The reserve fund also consists of income from WREDA’s investment of reserve fund moneys, loan guarantee origination fees, and moneys received from other sources. In addition, the bill expresses the legislature’s expectation that it will make appropriations to meet demands for funds guaranteed by the reserve fund. The bill generally limits WREDA to guaranteeing no more than $25,000,000 in total loans, except that the bill allows the Joint Committee on Finance to increase or decrease that limit. The bill also requires WREDA to ensure that the cash balance in the reserve fund is sufficient for the following purposes: 1) paying outstanding claims and 2) maintaining a ratio of $1 of reserve funding to $4.50 of total outstanding guarantees. If the cash balance exceeds the amount required for those purposes, the bill requires WREDA annually to transfer the excess to the general fund.

Grant program. The bill authorizes WREDA to make grants to eligible businesses and projects, as defined above, as well as to persons engaged in the commercialization of biological fuel, power, or products. WREDA must adopt guidelines for making the grants. The guidelines must provide for a committee to make determinations regarding grants, and the committee must consist of the secretary of agriculture, trade and consumer protection, the secretary of natural resources, and the chief executive officer of the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation. The guidelines may also allow the committee to make the grants on behalf of WREDA.

Other programs. The bill allows WREDA to implement the following to promote eligible businesses and projects, as defined above: 1) a revolving loan fund program to finance eligible businesses or projects; 2) an equity financing program for renewable energy generation businesses of agricultural producers; 3) a trading program for environmental credits related to clean and renewable energy production; 4) a technical assistance program for eligible businesses and certain community-based projects; and 5) a program for WREDA to obtain licenses and royalties on technologies developed with the assistance of WREDA.

Because this bill relates to an exemption from state or local taxes, it may be referred to the Joint Survey Committee on Tax Exemptions for a report to be printed as an appendix to the bill.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

or attempting to hold partisan political office while engaged in his or her official duties as an employee or engage in any political activity while not engaged in his or her official duties as an employee to such an extent that the person’s efficiency during working hours will be impaired or that he or she will be tardy or absent from work.
Any violation of this subsection is adequate grounds for dismissal.

(2) If an employee of the authority declares an intention to run for partisan political office, the employee shall be placed on a leave of absence for the duration of the election campaign and if elected shall no longer be employed by the authority on assuming the duties and responsibilities of such office.

possible given their staff and other resources, provide assistance to the authority.

235.06 Issuance of bonds. (1) The authority may issue bonds for any corporate purpose. All bonds are negotiable for all purposes, notwithstanding their payment from a limited source.

(2) The bonds of each issue shall be payable from sources specified in the bond resolution under which the bonds are issued.

(3) The authority may not issue bonds unless the issuance is first authorized by a bond resolution. Bonds shall bear the dates, mature at the times not exceeding 30 years from their dates of issue, bear interest at the rates, be payable at the times, be in the denominations, be in the form, carry the registration and conversion privileges, be executed in the manner, be payable in lawful money of the United States at the places, and be subject to the terms of redemption, that the bond resolution provides. The bonds shall be executed by the manual or facsimile signatures of the officers of the authority designated by the board. The bonds may be sold at public or private sale at the price, in the manner, and at the time determined by the board. Pending preparation of definitive bonds, the authority may issue interim receipts or certificates that the authority shall exchange for the definitive bonds.

(4) Any bond resolution may contain provisions that shall be a part of the contract with the holders of the bonds that are authorized by the bond resolution, regarding any of the following:

(e) Funding, refunding, advance refunding, or purchasing outstanding bonds.
(f) Procedures by which the terms of any contract with bondholders may be amended, the amount of bonds the holders of which must consent to the amendment, and the manner in which this consent may be given.

(h) Other matters relating to the bonds that the board considers desirable.

(5) Neither the members of the board nor any person executing the bonds is liable personally on the bonds or subject to any personal liability or accountability by reason of the issuance of the bonds, unless the personal liability or accountability is the result of willful misconduct.

235.07 Bond security. The authority may secure any bonds issued under this chapter by a trust agreement, trust indenture, indenture of mortgage, or deed of trust by and between the authority and one or more corporate trustees. The bond resolution providing for the issuance of bonds so secured shall pledge some or all of the revenues to be received by the authority and may contain provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the bondholders that are reasonable and proper and not in violation of law. A bond resolution may contain any other provisions that are determined by the board to be reasonable and proper for the security of the bondholders.

235.08 Bonds not public debt. (1) The state is not liable on bonds of the authority, and the bonds are not a debt of the state. Each bond of the authority shall contain a statement to this effect on the face of the bond. The issuance of bonds under this chapter does not, directly, indirectly, or contingently, obligate the state or any political subdivision of the state to levy any tax or to make any appropriation for payment of the bonds. Nothing in this section prevents the authority from pledging its full faith and credit to the payment of bonds issued under this chapter.

(2) Nothing in this chapter authorizes the authority to create a debt of the state, and all bonds issued by the authority under this chapter are payable, and shall state that they are payable, solely from the funds pledged for their payment in accordance with the bond resolution authorizing their issuance or in any trust indenture or deed of trust executed as security for the bonds. The state is not liable for the payment of the principal of or interest on any bonds of the authority or for the performance of any pledge, mortgage, obligation, or agreement which may be undertaken by the authority. The breach of any pledge, mortgage, obligation, or agreement undertaken by the authority does not impose any pecuniary liability upon the state or any charge upon its general credit or against its taxing power.

235.09 State pledge. The state pledges to and agrees with the holders of bonds, and persons that enter into contracts with the authority under this chapter, that the state will not limit or alter the rights vested in the authority by this chapter before the authority has fully met and discharged the bonds, and any interest due on the bonds, and has fully performed its contracts, unless adequate provision is made by law for the protection of the bondholders or those entering into contracts with the authority.

235.10 Refunding bonds. (1) The authority may issue bonds to fund or refund any outstanding bond, including the payment of any redemption premium on the outstanding bond and any interest accrued or to accrue to the earliest or any subsequent date of redemption, purchase, or maturity.

(2) The authority may apply the proceeds of any bond issued to fund or refund any outstanding bond to purchase, retire at maturity, or redeem any outstanding bond. The authority may, pending application, place the proceeds in escrow to be applied to the purchase, retirement at maturity, or redemption of any outstanding bond at any time.

235.11 Limit on amount of outstanding bonds. The authority may not have outstanding at any one time bonds in an aggregate principal amount exceeding $500,000,000, excluding bonds issued to refund outstanding bonds.

235.12 Annual reports. (1) The authority shall keep an accurate account of all of its activities and of all of its receipts and expenditures and shall annually in January make a report of its activities, receipts, and expenditures to the governor and the chief clerk of each house of the legislature for distribution to the legislature under s. 13.172 (2). The reports shall estimate the number of jobs created or maintained as a result of the authority’s activities as well as the fiscal impacts and savings resulting from those activities. The reporting of receipts and expenditures shall be in a form approved by the state auditor. The state auditor may investigate the affairs of the authority, may examine the properties and records of the authority, and may prescribe methods of accounting and the rendering of periodical reports in relation to activities undertaken by the authority.

(2) Annually on July 1, the authority shall file with the department of administration and the joint legislative council a complete and current listing of all forms, reports, and papers required by the authority to be completed by any person, other than a governmental body, as a condition of obtaining the approval of the authority or for any other reason. The authority shall attach a blank copy of each such form, report, or paper to the listing.

235.13 Confidentiality of certain records. The authority shall maintain the confidentiality of records or portions of records consisting of personal or financial information provided by a person seeking a loan, loan guarantee, or other financial assistance from the authority.
